NEW CUBA RISES ON RUM THIRST OF U. S. TOURIST

Prosperity Rides In on Volstead Law.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
HAYANA, Cuba, Feb. 29.—You don't hear any more talk about annexing Cuba to the United States, not even from those few Cubans who once held the position that the island would be far better off economically if it were incorporated in the United States.

Visited has changed all that. If the Anti-Saloon League and the W. C. T. U. were to decree the annexation of Cuba for the purpose of extending the benefits of prohibition to a benighted people, those powers of the United States government of the United States would find a war on their hands.

The Cuban population never would willingly pass under the yoke of "prohibition," as the United States government is operating to re-establish Cuba economically. "American prohibition is making good business for Cuba. It has put Cuba on the map and bids fair to put Cuba on the map."

As ever swelling stream of American seeking succor from the rigors of prohibition, has been flowing into Havana ever since the Volstead act went into effect. It has now reached the volume of from 12,000 to 15,000 persons a week and is still mounting. These Americans eat, drink and are merry, and leave millions of dollars behind them.

There's no money in sugar any more, but Cuba should worry. The worst crop is becoming one of the most profitable in the island and if American prohibition keeps up, it is expected eventually to outrank both sugar and tobacco in the amount of foreign money brought into the country.

Builds New Hotels.
At every stage there is evidence of a vast development for which the Cuban is indebted to Volsteadism. Several new hotels have been built, still the hotel accommodations of Havana are overtaxed by the demands of the Americans pouring in during the fall, winter, and spring. More hotels are to be built.

The Bowman hotel interests have begun development of a 3,000-acre tract on the seashore, just outside of Havana, which is to be an American hotel. Deauville, Biarritz, Monte Carlo, and Mentone rolled into one. The DuPonts have acquired an enormous tract in Matanzas province, which is to be transformed into an attractive holiday spot for Americans.

Altogether, Cuba presents the picture of a winter playground for Americans in the making. Just as Canada has become a summer playground for Americans since the prohibition law was championed on the United States.

Cuba, hopes to find American prohibition as profitable as has Canada where the provincial depts are rapidly being extinguished by the revenue from the manufacture and sale of liquor since the beginning of the Volstead era in the United States.

As in Canada, the supply of liquor in booting channels for the United States has become an enormously profitable business in Cuba and is bringing millions of dollars of American money into the little republic; likewise as in Canada the price of liquor has gone up considerably by virtue of the elimination of the United States as a producer of legal intoxicants and the increase in the demand on foreign sources of supply.

Good Scotch whisky and gin cost twice as much and bourbon and rye three or four times as much in Havana as in the pre-Volstead days. The smuggling of Cuban liquor into the United States is well organized and protected. Ample evidence of this fact is afforded by the multitude of every variety of Cuban liquor in Key West, which is supplied by American bootleggers to customers in case lots at prices ranging from only 50 cents to $1 a bottle above the Havana price.

In all the harbors of Havana homeward bound Americans are cautioned against trying to smuggle any liquor through Key West in baggage. Tales are told of the intensive search

5 MARINES DIE WHEN CAUGHT IN NICARAGUA TRAP

Signals to Planes Tell of Battle.

BY LOUIS ROSENTHAL.

(Picture on back page.)
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.)

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 29.—

Through United States marine officers who have reached Yali and through further signaling today from

Lieut. Edward F. O'Day's column the story of Monday's battle between the marine pack train returning from Yali to Ocotul and Gen. Augusto Sandino's bandits, now has reached marine headquarters. Five marines were killed and eight wounded.

Those killed in action were Privates John C. Pump, Council Bluffs, Ia.;

George E. Robbins, San Antonio, Tex., and Albert Schlauch, Jamestown, N. D.

Corporal Cleo D. Austin, Crockett, Tex., and Private Curtis J. Mott, Trenton, Wash., died of wounds.

The battle occurred at a ranch house, the most prominent building in the village of Darafil, midway between Ocotul and Jinotega. The first news of the combat was brought in by Capt. Robert J. Archibald, who picked up signals from the commanding officer at Yali, where, as yet, there is no landing field, saying that he had a message for him.

Capt. Archibald with the aid of a grappling hook drew in the message, which stated that two marines had arrived at Yali on the night of Feb. 28, stating Lieut. O'Day's column had been attacked but they had no details as they were "getaway men," whose duty it was to act as couriers and convey the information the minute the column was attacked. Eighty-five men had already been dispatched to the scene of the battle from Yali.

Cloth Panels Tell Story.

Capt. Archibald immediately flew over the scene of the battle and saw dead miles where the marine pack train had been attacked, and further along the route toward Condega he located Lieut. O'Day's column and there received a message, spelled out by placing panels of white cloth on the ground. He interpreted this as a signal that marines had been killed.

Another aviator understood the message to mean that the pack train was lost. This uncertainty caused the marine headquarters to withhold the news yesterday.

Aviators again flew over the column which was still plodding today. They received definite information that four marines had been killed, one seriously wounded, and eight less seriously wounded.

Later airplanes picked up another message signaling that five were dead and seven wounded, including that the seriously injured marine had died during the day and one was wounded only trivially.

Buried on Battlefield.

Lieut. O'Day is carrying the wounded with the returning patrol, but undoubtedly the dead were buried at the scene of battle, as it is believed to be impossible to carry dead over the mountain trails in the bandit infested district.

Lieut. O'Day's column was joined today by another column of marines on an independent mission and both columns should reach Condega about midnight. Medical aid has been rushed to Condega. Three strong columns of marines have started in pursuit of the rebels.

While lying over a barn at Jocoto Tuesday, Chief Gunner Michael Woodcock escaped being shot down by bandits. His plane twice was hit by large caliber bullets.

Second Marine Patrol Attacked.

A patrol of six marines and six constabulary was attacked on Monday about thirty miles north of Tolapasco, by a band of about thirty rebels.

The marines suffered no casualties. The bandits fled after a short exchange of volleys.

While no definite news is at hand, it is believed the bandits attacking

Lieut. O'Day's column numbered about 100 and were armed with at least two machine guns and several well supplied with ammunition.

The pack train had just delivered supplies at Yali from Condega and was on its way to Ocotul when attacked. The small winds through a narrow, rugged valley near the point of the attack. The marines evidently were climbing a slope from the bank of a small stream when attacked by the bandits from the cover of the large ranch house.

This skirmish brings the marine casualties in Nicaragua to eighteen killed and forty-three wounded, according to unofficial estimates. On Dec. 26, 1927, at Quilich, five marines were killed and twenty-eight wounded.

Here's 7 Cents' Worth of Hope to Gas Tax Payers

Mr. Motorist, the dark cloud of the gasoline tax now displays a silver lining. Mrs. Mabel G. Reinecke, collector of internal revenue, announced yesterday that all such taxes paid during the year are deductible from income. Officials of the Chicago Motor Club recently estimated that the average motorist has paid $6 in taxes on gasoline. Mathematicians of the internal revenue department say that by crediting themselves with this payment a saving of 7 cents on the income tax can be made in the case of earned income.

Found with Stolen Car, He Dies of Police Bullet

George Horstath, 19, of 5553 South Luna avenue, died yesterday in the Bridewell hospital of a bullet wound received Tuesday night when he tried to flee from Patrolman John Mahon. With his two brothers he was surprised by an auto they had stolen shortly before. His brothers, Frank, 21, and Joseph, 13, both were captured by Mahon.

SELZNICK TELLS HOW HE WHIPPED JOHN BARRYMORE

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 29.—(AP.)—Myron Selznick, film agent, said tonight that in his opinion John Barrymore, screen and stage actor, would not be seen in public for several days as the result of a fist fight between the actor and himself on the lawn of the Ambassador hotel last Saturday night. Barrymore could not be reached for a statement.

March Will Be More Lamb than Lion Today, It Seems

March will come nearer to being a lamb than a lion as it begins its career today, the official weather prediction indicated. Yesterday's temperatures enabled the weather man to accurately forecast the weather for the next few days. When at 3 p. m. the thermometer registered 33 it proclaimed the mildest leap year's day since 1888.

Policeman's Mother Rescued

Mrs. Nellie Rooney, mother of Policeman William Rooney of the Fifth ward station, was the woman rescued today from the west side fire. The blaze was believed to have started from the explosion of a gas heater in the basement.

Why Mayor Is So Small

"We will not today endorse state candidates, but at a later meeting there will be an endorsement of Small and other state candidates. In effect, it was indicated that this would be done whether the organization liked it or not. The crowd that applauded every other statement of the mayor was silent at this. Nobody thought to tell the band to strike up as was done so frequently during the meeting.

Mayor Thompson also denounced "lying newspaper editors" in general for printing charges that Chicago is a crime ridden city. He said that Commissioner Hughes had lowered the crime figures for some months 50 per cent and for other months even 60 and 70 per cent in contrast with the records for the corresponding months in the previous year.

... threatens the foundation of representative government.

We denounce as subversive of American liberty the doctrine that we are without power to enact any legislation which experience shall prove necessary, and we demand that there shall be submitted to the American people a referendum providing for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Report from Deneen Camp.

The mayor's enthusiasm for Coolidge at this time brought comment from the Deneen headquarters last night in which it was pointed out that Thompson has not always been an ardent supporter of the President in election campaigns. "Mr. Thompson bolted the Coolidge camp at the national convention in Cleveland in 1924," says the Deneen statement. "He told his political associates that the only thing that kept him from swinging to La Follette was the fear that La Follette would refuse to come out as an independent, leaving the mayor 'holding an empty bag,' as he expressed it."

The Deneen statement also recalls the fact that Thompson resigned his candidacy as an elector on the Coolidge ticket in October, 1924, and it says this action was regarded as an effort to indicate sympathy with La Follette's candidacy.

STEWART SLATED TO RETAIN PLACE WITH STANDARD

The reflection of Col. Robert W. Stewart as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana at the annual directors' meeting today is understood to be practically assured.

In spite of a certain degree of ill feeling which was reported to exist between John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Col. Stewart at the time of the latter's testimony before the senate committee several weeks ago, the Rockefeller interests, it is said, have sent their proxies to the present Standard Oil management to be voted in "the regular way."

As Col. Stewart is chairman of the stockholders' committee which has charge of the voting of the stock of absentees, Mr. Rockefeller's action was taken to mean that there will be no concerted fight on Stewart at today's meeting.

Most of the directors of the company are "close business friends" of Col. Stewart and some of them are old employees of the company with whom he has worked for years. Many of the stockholders are also employees of the company while the Rockefeller interests control around 15 per cent of the stock. The stockholders will meet this morning, while the directors will meet later in the day.

The resignation of M. K. Blackmer as a director and vice president of the Midwest Refining company was announced yesterday.

"AMERICA FIRST" LEADERS PLAN SCHOOL OLYMPIC

Mayor Thompson's America First foundation plans to sponsor next June what will be known as the first annual "schools Olympic," a city-wide athletic circuit to be held in Soldiers' field.

Boy and girl athletes from both public and parochial schools will participate in the meet, which will include track and field events, military drills, hand contests, folk dances, and bicycling and pushmobile races. Proceeds will go to the city's crippled and undernourished children, it was announced.

The city council yesterday adopted a resolution asking the Chicago Association of Commerce, civic clubs, and improvement organizations to "give full measure of moral and financial support" to the undertaking.

Woman Falls to Death Under Train at "L" Station

Mrs. Catherine Brewer, 50, of 5048 Dakin street, the mother of four children, was killed yesterday morning when she leaped or fell from an elevated platform at Sheridan road into the path of a Chicago and North Shore electric train. A score of persons on the platform, and Deneen-Wickham of Waukegan, motorman of the train, said she deliberately leaped. Mrs. Brewer had been sought since midnight by her husband, John, and police, when she failed to appear at the home of her sister, Miss Annie Wilson, 1022 Byron street, where she had said she was going.

RALLY STIRS UP POLITICAL PEP ON GOLD COAST

Residents Work to Nominate L. A. Meeker.

Gold coast residents of the Forty-second ward last night demonstrated a disposition to assert themselves politically when they gathered at the organization meeting held at the Illinois Woman's Athletic club to aid Lawrence A. Meeker, Republican candidate for ward committeeman.

For the last ten years, according to John Bennett, treasurer of the Deneen organization, which is backing Meeker, the east side of the ward, including the wealthier class of its voters, had held aloof from the polls and has offered no opposition to candidates advanced by the less reserved and more thoroughly organized west side.

Candidate to Their Liking.

With the entrance into the political field of Meeker, who was born in the ward, it is a nephew of Arthur Meeker, a Yale graduate, a world war veteran, and a member of exclusive clubs, an opportunity of supporting a candidate of their liking appears to have been presented to the gold coast, and it is evidently going to respond.

Not only, it was noted, did the brief addresses made last night awaken interest and applause, but the majority of those attending gave in their names as volunteer workers. Some contracted to canvass their vicinities to secure registrations on March 13. Others volunteered to serve as election clerks and judges on April 10, in response to an appeal by Mrs. Clair E. More of the Seneca hotel, who presided.

"I ain't going to do us any good to vote," Mrs. More observed, "unless we can make sure that our votes are going to be counted. And for this we need civilized men and women to act as election clerks and judges." Names were immediately forthcoming.

Conditions Not So Good.

Mr. Meeker contented himself with a brief statement of his candidacy for the office, emphasizing the fact that if he wins over his opponent on April 10 he will be elected, not merely nominated. Conditions in the ward have not been satisfactory for the past decade, he said, and he proposed to represent all factions of the ward impartially.

Among those who attended the meeting was the British consul general, H. A. Richards, who explained that he had come merely as a distinguished spectator, to observe a political meeting in America. Having left England more than forty years ago, he has never had a vote, he told friends, and he found the proceedings different and interesting.

STIMSON LANDS IN PHILIPPINES; MET BY PLANES

MANILA, March 1.—(Thursday)—Col. Henry L. Stimson, newly appointed governor general of the Philippines, arrived here today to take up his duties as successor to the late Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood. The steamship President McKinley, which brought him from San Francisco, was met at the entrance to Manila bay by air and water craft of the army and navy. Sixteen airplanes of the army, four navy seaplanes, and four destroyers of the United States fleet formed the escort.

Shot Self to Aid Parents, Boy to Regain Health

Jimmy Capasso, 15, who shot himself on Tuesday in an attempt to lighten the burden his parents have in feeding themselves and six children, will recover. At the Bridgwell hospital yesterday his mother, father, brothers, and sisters told Jimmy they knew he wasn't a bum. Jimmy had told police he had shot himself because he couldn't get a job and because his father had called him a bum. The family income is $12.50 a week.

AL SMITH'S NAME IS FILED FOR PRIMARY RACE IN N. DAKOTA

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 29.—(A) A petition asking that the name of Gov. Alfred E. Smith appear as a Democratic Presidential candidate on the primary election ballot in North Dakota, March 30, was filed with the secretary of state here today.

It was not known here whether any other Democratic Presidential candidate will seek preference at the primary.

Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois in a personal declaration filed yesterday with the secretary of state, announced himself as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination.

The petition for Gov. Smith was filed by E. J. Hughes, chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

Seize 2 Youths as Suspects in Killing of Policeman

Neighbors heard Joseph Oga, 18, of 1119 West Erie street, threaten to kill his father last night and called the police. Sgt. Robert Weiling and his squad went to the house, arrested Joseph and found his gun hidden under a pillow. He told them it had been given to him by Joseph Cullotta, 1373 Grand avenue. When the police told Oga to come with them, they noticed that the leather coat and gray cap he put on were like the articles worn by one of the two bandits who killed Policeman Walter E. Lilly in his garage at 482 Winneconna parkway Tuesday.

Cullotta was also arrested and the two were taken to the detective bureau for questioning. Oga, it was found, is on probation, having a record as a forger.

REED ADVOCATES STRONG MILITARY DEFENSE POLICY

Paper Treaties Are Not Adequate, He Says.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 29.—(A) A policy of staunch national defense and preparedness was advocated here tonight by Senator Reed of Missouri.

He assailed the "inactivity" of President Coolidge in the investigation of the leasing of naval oil reserves, and Secretary Mellon for his participation in "the corrupt Pennsylvania senatorial election" of 1925.

The senator emphasized that he felt no alarm about the prospects of war, but he warned that "the experience of the ages demonstrated that paper treaties are no adequate defense against artillery of an enemy." He said the "plain mandate of reason" called for two propositions:

"First, to continue the policy of justice toward all the world; so far as possible, to keep free from all world embroilments and controversies.

"Second, keep our nation in such state of preparedness that no other nation can successfully attack our shores.

"This does not, in my judgment, mean an enormous military establishment," he said. "But it does mean land force, regular militia, sufficient to constitute a first line defense. It demands the possession of artillery, munitions, and small arms adequate to supply the needs of a grant army as quickly as it may be mobilized. It demands a fleet upon the ocean great enough to protect our commerce; to hold back an advancing enemy and to sink its transports."

FAKE DETECTIVES TRICK HIM OUT OF $2,000 SAVINGS

George Priestley, 45 years old, a crippled elevator operator in the Singer building, thought he was arrested. Two men who said they were detectives told him so. They added that he could escape a cell only by posting bonds with them to the amount of his savings.

Priestley and the pair went to two banks, where he withdrew $2,016. At the third stop, the Harris Trust and Savings bank, a teller became suspicious of George's companions and passed a cashier's check for $2,900 through the wicket instead of cash.

The three entered a taxicab and rode to 21st and Robey streets, where they went into an alley, "the rear entrance to the station," Priestley was told. He gave his companions the cash and the check. Then, to his surprise, they disappeared on the run. George appealed to real policemen, who stopped payment on the check and started a hunt for the two confidence men.

CANADA COURT DECREE'S NEWS IS PROPERTY

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 29.—(A) In a decision handed down today by Justice Logie it was determined, for the first time in Ontario, that news gathered by a syndicate is property and may not be appropriated by others.

The decision gave a judgment to MacLean Building Reports, Ltd., which distributes information concerning building construction operations throughout Canada. The service was sold to subscribers for their exclusive use.

The service was not held to be protected by copyright, but was claimed as property under common law.

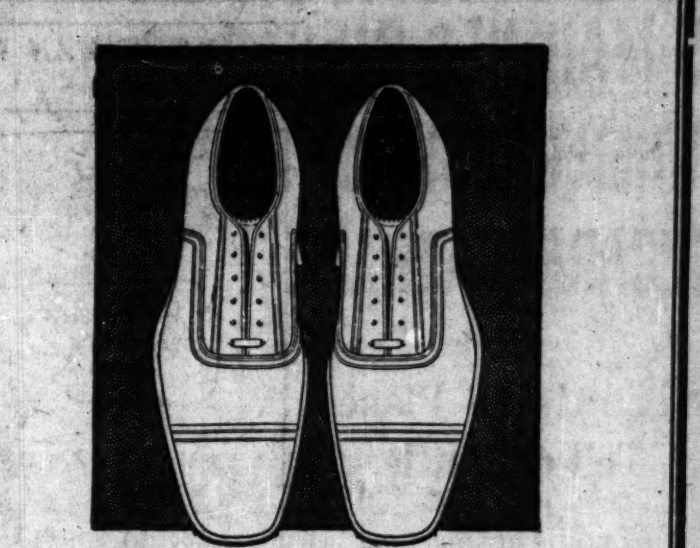

The English courts had so ruled and a similar ruling had been handed down in Massachusetts. Today's judgment perpetually restrains other organizations from publishing or otherwise circulating any information obtained or prepared by MacLean Building Reports, Ltd.

MR. REMO BOLOGNINI
Violinist

By popular request you will again hear this famous violinist. Mr. Bolognini needs no introduction to the radio audience. He will play a rare Stradivarius, 1705, from the Wurlitzer collections of old violins.

"DID YOU MEAN IT?"

Did you mean it when you said I love you?
Did you mean it when you said Tell me, were you only just pretending?
Did you mean it when you said If you were, you weren't playing?
Did you mean it when you said Tell me, truthfully, were you doing?
When I stood before you, and you whispered I adore you,
Tell me did you really mean it, dear?

KEEP SWEEPING THE COVERS OFF THE MOON

Change all of your gray ideas, Turn these late, gray ideas, And keep sweeping the covers off the moon.
What good is your plaining? Put your silver lining And keep sweeping the covers off the moon.
You'll make the clouds hurry away Running a lovely love song, Somebody come along: Come all of your sorrow, Take care of tomorrow And keep sweeping the covers off the moon.

MODERN FASHIONS and the new APPLETON'S

This store is young, yet it has its traditions. The quickened tempo of the times, the mechanical progress and revolutionary thinking of the age of which Appleton's is a part, parcel, and product, have accelerated the processes by which ideas are joined and associations formed.

One of this store's traditions is its Beautiful Fashions; another its uniformly low prices—the lowest possible anywhere; then its policy of

LEAGUE BACK KEPT FACT TO DENY IT HURT as French

BY WILLIAM [Copyright, 1928, by The Chicago Tribune]

GENEVA, Feb. 29.—(A) State Kellogg's statement to Paris that France would not join a multilateral peace without violating the terms of the League of Nations treaty today.

"An anti-war treaty proposed by the American state in no way violates the covenant and from the view of the league would be approved, it, since no new any other obligation the signatories a culprit nation," a authority explained, of powers would be interpreted as obligation but it does not do words."

League Delegates, the American notes, arrived today by train from Geneva. They are well known and involved security for national world over the past several years. The majority feel the seeking publicity and public administration radical peace proposals consumption in the elections.

Members of the states especially so plan, stating that it never would work in where specific guarantees to prevent war.

Stirred by criticism, the security council all day drawing up a plan, at a general meeting where the German event was going on.

Berlin's idea of free to agree in advance decisions of the league all in case of dispute, armistice if ordered even after hostilities brought a curious conclusion.

For the first time openly, Germany, while Germany, while Germany has been backing extension of the League of Nations, tried to secure a vote in the council, announcing all five points of the German plan, which also a majority vote in the council, a unanimous vote, as M. Paul-Boncour of France suggested with a view to giving full powers to put in case of the left in the hands of the French.

REPORT MAYOR SEEKS DEFEAT OF B. E. SUNNY TODAY

Democratic Judges Hold
Balance of Power.

Circuit court judges of Cook county were aroused yesterday by rumors that political leaders had determined in advance how the bench would vote today in electing a member of the south park board.

The term of Bernard E. Sunny expires, and there were persistent reports that the bosses opposed his retention because of Thompson-Crowe hostility toward the entire Democratic faction, with which Mr. Sunny has been identified to some extent in the past.

Two Mentioned as Successors.
The principal rumor was that Commissioner Sunny would be ousted by a Democratic-Republican combination, but when it came to giving the name of the man scheduled to be his successor the stories varied. The more frequent report was that Mayor Thompson had dictated the election of Philip S. Graver, an old chum of his football days, but another yarn was that Emil G. Seip would be chosen.

The decision whether Mr. Sunny will be ousted or retained after his five years of service in a post that carries no salary is thought to rest entirely with the Democratic judges on the Circuit bench. That court now consists of twelve Republicans and eight Democrats, but the Republicans are so divided between the Deneen and the Thompson-Crowe camps, it is said, that it would require at least three Democratic votes to give any Thompson-Crowe candidate the eleven votes needed for a majority.

Brennan Rumor Denied.
There has been gossip that George E. Brennan, Democratic chieftain, had agreed to throw his support to Mr. Graver, but close inquiry failed to show that Mr. Brennan had sent any message to the Democratic judges. A visit to the West Side hospital where he is recuperating from an operation, brought definite statements that the Democratic leader, on the order of his physicians, had received no calls or messages. And among Mr. Brennan's associates confidence was expressed that he had not tried to influence any of the judges against Mr. Sunny.

Mr. Graver is one of the owners of the Graver Tank works. His immediate political sponsorship in this instance is said to be that of William H. Reid, who, among other activities, is said to be interested in the paving material business. Mr. Graver played on the 1916 and 1918 championship football teams of the Chicago Athletic association, of which Mayor Thompson was captain.

AERIAL SEARCH PARTY RETURNS WITHOUT TRACE OF AVIATORS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Hope for the rescue alive of Commander T. G. Elliott, executive officer of the airplane carrier Lexington, and his companions, Lieutenant Commander Hugo Schmidt and Lieut. Roger Ranshousen, waned today among navy officials here as the third aerial searching party returned unsuccessful.

The waters of the Chesapeake bay and the coast of nearby states have been searched for the flyers who left Hampton Roads, Va., Monday morning at 8 o'clock for Annapolis. An oil slick on the waters of the bay near Horn Harbor was thought to be a trace of the flyers, but the dragging of the bottom failed to reveal the plane.

CHICAGO WILL BE HUB OF TWO NEW AIR MAIL ROUTES

Two new air mail routes starting from Chicago are to be established in the immediate future, it was announced last night by the postoffice department in Washington, D. C. The first will run from Chicago to Atlanta, Ga., by way of Terre Haute and Evansville, Ind., Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn., with a spur from Evansville to St. Louis.

The other route will run from Chicago to Bay City, Mich., via South Bend, Ind., Kalamazoo, Lansing, Flint, and Saginaw, with spurs from Kalamazoo to Pontiac, via Battle Creek, Jackson, Ann Arbor, and Detroit, and to Muskegon, via Grand Rapids. Bids for these two and a third new route from St. Louis to Kansas City, Mo., are sought by the postoffice department.

LAWYERS DEFY BOARD ON BEHALF OF McANDREW

Walk Out After Calling 4
Trustees Disqualified.

William McAndrew's trial before the board of education, which drew gradually toward a standstill as the April primaries approached, flared up in a bitter battle between lawyers yesterday and ended with Mr. McAndrew's attorneys clapping their hats on their heads and stalking out of the board room.

Six months have elapsed since the original charges were filed against the suspended superintendent, who is now actually an ex-superintendent, his term having since expired.

Frank S. Righelmer and James Todd, board attorneys, announced that they had concluded their case, but reserved the right to present arguments from the evidence, if the board desired. President J. Lewis Coath ordered the board to decide that point in 48 hours. No date was fixed for returning a verdict. What the board decides about McAndrew probably will not be known until after the primaries.

McAndrew's attorneys, Angus Roy Shannon and Francis X. Busch, for the first time took an active part in the proceedings of the trial. They introduced two witnesses, protested the right of four trustees to vote, and concluded in a little over an hour. Explaining that they had no arguments to make and did not intend to listen to the arguments of the board attorneys, they walked out of the board room.

The four whose right to vote was protested are H. Wallace Caldwell, appointed by Mayor Thompson in January to fill a vacancy; Charles J. Vopicka, James Mullenbach and John A. English. These trustees frequently have been absent. Attorney Shannon charged. According to Mr. Shannon their absences range from 13 to 8. There have been 23 sessions of the trial.

"We feel that there aren't enough qualified voters on this board—for various reasons—to decide on the case against Mr. McAndrew," Mr. Shannon declared.

Mr. Righelmer objected to the admission of this protest. "It's an outrage," he said. "It typifies the insolent attitude of McAndrew and his attorneys all through this trial. It shows the contemptuous manner which the superintendent has at all times shown in his attitude toward the board."

With the testimony of the two witnesses and the reading of the protest declaring the four frequently absent trustees incompetent to vote, the defense attorneys rested their case.

Regard Trial as Formally.
"Mr. McAndrew, Mr. Shannon and I have realized from the start of this trial that there was no question of the outcome of the case," Mr. Busch said. "While this case has been in progress Mayor Thompson has said repeatedly that he was going to fire McAndrew. Members of the board of education have been called on to resign because they seemed not to be in sympathy with the mayor's ideas and the conduct of the trial."

"Hence we have felt it would be useless for us to do anything, save to protect our case for another court. We deem it useless to make any argument on the case, and we do not feel compelled to listen to any other arguments."

"That's the best argument for any one who hasn't a defense," Righelmer retorted. "It's the only possible position for them."

At this point Mr. Shannon and Mr. Busch walked out.

Members of the school board will meet in executive session tomorrow afternoon to discuss a possible successor to McAndrew. No appointment is expected until after the April primaries.

Advised that weather conditions would be unfavorable to landing the dirigible Los Angeles at Lakehurst, N. J., tomorrow afternoon, Lieutenant Commander C. E. Rosendahl late today changed his plans for an immediate resumption of the return flight from Panama. In a radio dispatch to the navy department Commander Rosendahl said the dirigible would remain overnight at Guaymas, Mexico, and would make a local flight over Cuba before beginning the 1,500 mile voyage to Lakehurst. Leaving Panama at 10:15 a. m. yesterday, the Los Angeles cruised across the isthmus to Panama City before heading across the Caribbean sea 771 miles to the aircraft tender Patoka.

The Chicago Tribune's GAME of "SONG TITLES"

617 Big Cash Prizes for Best Answers

CLUE: This picture illustrates the name of a Southern melody, exceedingly popular both north and south of the Mason-Dixon line.

The Name of This Song Is...
My Name Is...
Street Address...
City...

THE RULES:

1. Every weekday for 40 consecutive days, (not including Sunday) the Chicago Daily Tribune will print a cartoon picture representing the name of a popular and well known song or an old favorite melody. The public is invited to cut out these cartoons and name the songs the pictures represent.
2. The Chicago Tribune will pay $5,000.00 in cash prizes to the persons sending in the correct answers. At the end of the contest we want you to tell us the name of your favorite song—the one you like best of all—and why. Contestants may send in as many sets of Song Titles as they wish, but no contestant will be entitled to more than one prize.
3. You need not purchase the Chicago Daily Tribune to compete. You may copy or trace the cartoon pictures from the original and use the copies you have made. The Chicago Tribune may be examined at any of its offices or at public libraries free of charge.
4. You need not purchase the Chicago Daily Tribune to compete. You may copy or trace the cartoon pictures from the original and use the copies you have made. The Chicago Tribune may be examined at any of its offices or at public libraries free of charge.
5. The judges will be a committee appointed by The Chicago Tribune. Their decision will be final. In case of ties a duplicate award will be paid to each tying contestant.

STATE DEPICTS DR. RONGETTI AS RULED BY GREED

Defense Testimony Comes to Sudden End.

CRIMINAL COURT.

John Simmons, burglary (changed to larceny), sentenced to 1 year in the Reformatory by Judge John P. McQuinn.

Harvey Henderson, robbery, sentenced to 1 year in the Reformatory by Judge Stanley Karkowski.

Robert Lloyd, robbery, sentenced to 1 year in the Reformatory; Alonzo Elmer, obtaining money by false pretenses, sentenced to 1 year in the Reformatory by Judge Otto Kerner.

"Mere out punishment commensurate with the horror of the crime," Assistant State's Attorney Charles Bellows said to a jury yesterday. Then he briefly reviewed the testimony against Dr. Amante Rongetti, owner of the Ashland Boulevard hospital.

Today Mr. Bellows and Harry Ditchburn will ask that Dr. Rongetti be sentenced to die in the electric chair for the death of Miss Loretta Enders, 19, who didn't wish to become a mother and who went to Dr. Rongetti for treatment.

The hearing of evidence ended suddenly yesterday afternoon when the defense concluded its testimony. During the two weeks since the trial started many complaints were made by the state's witnesses that various persons had threatened them or used violence to intimidate them so they would not testify against Dr. Rongetti.

Rongetti Defense Brief.

Dr. Rongetti's defense was short. While not admitting that Rongetti performed a criminal operation, Attorney William Scott Stewart attempted to make it appear that Miss Enders was suffering from a disease before the operation. Mr. Bellows in his closing speech attacked that method of defense.

"She was a young girl, blossoming into womanhood and she loved and was loved in return," Mr. Bellows added. "Her life was sacred to her and to her family and to the community. She was engaged to marry William Combs, a dental student, but the wedding couldn't take place until he had finished his studies and they couldn't afford to have the baby."

Calls Rongetti Greedy.

Mr. Bellows then declared that Rongetti acted "not as a kind hearted physician doing a favor for an unmarried girl to shield her from discovery but as a man doing a deed for a price, believing the girl to be married."

"The child was prematurely born and later Rongetti refused to get out of bed to attend to Loretta Enders, allowing her to develop a fever."

"Three days in the furnace," Rongetti said to Miss Lorraine Irwin, the nurse, referring to the baby's body. She wouldn't, and then he told Mrs. Hazel Reed, another nurse, but she wouldn't do that inhuman thing, either. But Rongetti got rid of the dead child.

"Hide, hide, hide everything—that was Rongetti's way. Miss Irwin asked him about doing something when possibly another operation would have saved the young girl's life."

"She hasn't any money," Rongetti replied.

Says That Describes Him.

"That characterizes him as nothing else I could say."

"Loretta died. This kind hearted man offered first $100 and finally $400 to the family. The man who finishes the work of this abortionist [the undertaker] tells you himself in this courtroom of the terms agreed upon. Why?"

During the afternoon Attorney Stewart had offered in evidence a statement signed by Miss Enders when she was admitted to the hospital, absolutely ing Rongetti to blame for anything that might happen to her, but Judge Frank D. Comerford refused to allow it to be read to the jury.

Stewart offered nothing in contradiction of the fact that Dr. Rongetti issued a false certificate. The defense testimony chiefly was that Miss Enders had an infectious disease before the operation.

Dr. Orlando Scott, 3313 Kimbark avenue, an expert witness said Miss Enders died of peritonitis, but he did not know what caused it.

Following the jury's verdict, whatever it may be, Judge Comerford will continue the investigation into the charges that the defense tampered with state's evidence.

CLAMP PADLOCK ON CAFE AFTER 3 MIN. DEFENSE

Court Closes 21 Places in Two Hours.

For six years the steaks, chops, and chickens prepared in the kitchen of Joseph Sykora's Cottage Inn opposite the town hall in Lyons have brought to his tables the most fastidious epicures in the matter of viands.

Yesterday Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley ordered a padlock for the dining hall of Sykora, who for nine years was a trustee of the village of Stickney and for seven years its assessor. The door of the inn is to be barred for one year, thereby depriving Sykora of the revenue from his investment, which he puts at $50,000.

21 Padlocks Ordered.

This was one of twenty-one padlocks which Judge Lindley decreed in the space of two hours yesterday for establishments whose owners or lessees were charged with violation of the prohibition laws.

"Number 7233. The United States versus Joseph Sykora," read the clerk. Sykora, his attorney, Otto L. Kolisch, and Assistant United States District Attorney Edgar B. Elder stepped to the bar. Whereat Kolar sandwiched in a three minute defense for his client. He admitted that dry agents had discovered red wine in the ice box. That this was the ingredient which gave the subtle flavors to the condiments on Sykora's menu, and which gave bouquet to the haseenpfeffer, a proud dish on the Cottage Inn fare. There also was one-half of one pint of dandelion wine on the premises. And he admitted that two bottles of gin had been found in the room of one of the maids, "for her own personal medicinal use."

Judge Issues the Order.

During Kolar's plea Elder, rustled

MILICENT LEADS NEW HUSBAND BACK HOME THROUGH CARGO SHED

New York, Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Mme. Arturo Peraita Ramos, once Miss Millicent Rogers and formerly the Countess Selmi, came back to New York today after her second honeymoon with her new husband, eight trunks and a young Trinidad wild cat. She arrived informally, for it was down the baggage gangway of the liner Western World that the heiress returned.

With her husband she picked her way through the piles of cargo and baggage on the lower ramp of the pier to the limousine at the freight entrance among the waiting trucks. But it was a happy homecoming. It seemed, for customs men, the only bystanders who did see her, said she was smiling broadly as she drove away.

through the bill for an injunction in the case, corroborating the evidence as it was admitted by the defense.

"Let the decree be entered," was Judge Lindley's padlock order.

"The United States versus James Belcastro," the clerk called the next case.

Dry Agent Ewing took the stand, as the decree was to be contested, and answered briskly the eight formula questions put to him by Mr. Elder.

Q.—Did you ever have occasion to visit 6336 Cottage Grove avenue? A.—Yes.

Q.—How was the place laid out? A.—It was an ordinary restaurant with chairs and tables.

Q.—What did you do there? A.—I bought three rounds of drinks at $0.75.

Q.—Whom did you give the money to? A.—The waiter.

Knows Taste of Liquor.

Q.—What did he do with it? A.—He put it in his pocket.

Q.—Did you taste the liquor? A.—Yes.

Q.—Do you know the taste of liquor containing more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol by volume? A.—I do.

Q.—Did this liquor contain more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol by volume? A.—I did.

Belcastro took the stand in his own defense, protesting that he was in Hot Springs, Ark., at the time of the raid, that his restaurant represented an investment of $1,000, and that he had strictly forbidden the sale or possession of liquor in the place.

Can't Stop the Waiters.

"You can't always stop these waiters from making a little money on the side," commented the judge. "Let the decree be entered."

In some cases the defendants failed to appear and the monotonous "Let the decree be entered" was recorded as soon as the case was called.

Testimony of Dry Agent Coplansky that his "bribe" consisted of beer found to contain 3.54 per cent alcohol was sufficient evidence to close for one year W. M. Smith's place at 6753 South Vincennes avenue.

Among the defendants was Matthew McAnany, at whose drug store, 301 East 55th street, a University of Chicago student is alleged to have purchased liquor which ended his life. He was enjoined from conducting his business there, but the place was permitted to operate when it was proved that McAnany had sold his interest.

Others Hit by Orders.

Others who suffered the padlock order were B. C. Golden, 313 West 7th street; William Harris, 3133 Westworth avenue; John Hogan, 1110 West Madison street; Thomas Lilly, 7027 South Paulina street; Robert O. Fritchard, 515 South Maplewood avenue; Minnie C. Butta, 349 North Clark street; Joe Romano, 372 North Wells street; Peter Chalmers, 543 North Clark street; James Cronin, 1353 North Ashland avenue; Charles Freese, 3644 Ogden avenue; A. Pinkston, 3738 Giles avenue; Joe Zaklinski, 7385 39th street; Lyons, Thomas Gilmore, 1449 West 69th street; Albert Block, 2943 Armitage avenue; Joe Maranick, 37 West 154th street; Harvey; George Graham, 38th street and California avenue; J. Merck, Oak Forest, and Jack Harrison, Aurora.

GET CELLS FOR THEFT ATTEMPT.

Leola Arnold, 23, and Wilbur Jones, 23, both colored, of 736 East 31st street, were sentenced to the House of Correction by Judge John H. Lyle yesterday for attempting to steal $100 in stamps and $14 in cash from the Chicago Normal School of Physical Culture at 5046 Greenwood avenue on Feb. 20. Arnold was sentenced to one year, Jones to 30 days.

"STORM HOUSE" Starts In This Issue

At the new 10-cent price Delineator will not last long on the newsstands! Make sure that you do not miss the first thrilling chapters of this exquisite new love story by America's best-loved author.

CONINGSBY DAWSON

One of Delineator's most popular authors surpasses himself in Pilgrims of the Impossible—a poignant drama woven around an earnest divinity student, a charming but weak would-be playwright, and a bewilderingly lovely actress.

DOROTHY CANFIELD

In Deep Channel the versatile Dorothy Canfield has written an unusually moving story of a young minister's struggle to find a true course amid the uncharted shoals of life.

ARTHUR TRAIN

This brilliant author, with his unceasing insight into the hearts of modern men and women, tells in Simon Kent an absorbing story of unselfish love in conflict with ruthless ambition.

AND MANY OTHER FAMOUS AUTHORS

In succeeding issues will appear many other fascinating serials, short stories and articles by such famous authors as Edith Wharton, Elizabeth Coe, Russell, Louis Joseph Vance, Albert Payson Terhune, Mrs. William Laimbeer, Jessica C. Coe, Frances Parkinson Keyes, Mrs. John Alexander King, Edith Caroline Cole and many others.

On sale at all newsstands and in stores of progressive merchants who have Butterick departments.

NEVER in the history of publishing has there been offered at any price a magazine that covers the field of women's interests so completely, or in so thoroughly practical a way as Delineator does today.

If we find, for instance, that large numbers of Delineator readers are interested in the young girl's bedroom—presto! Delineator builds, decorates and furnishes a real room that is complete in every lovely little detail—such a room as any girl might dream of owning—yet practical in use and reasonable in cost.

COUNCIL DEBATE FLASHES LIGHT ON FREE AUTOS

Aldermen Wrangle Over
New Police Cars.

City hall limousines and testimonial banquets bounced into official limelight for the first time yesterday in a hotly contested council debate. The instruction steam roller ruled as usual, and at the end of its trip an extra $4,000 had been spent.

Purchase of five new police squad cars, recommended by the finance committee, occasioned the fireworks which were touched off when Ald. Guy Guernsey (14th) moved that Cadillac, at $4,352, be substituted for Lincoln at $4,352. The present squad cars are Cadillac, and for the sake of standardization as well as economy, he said, the new cars should be duplicates.

"I am surprised at Ald. Guernsey," remarked Ald. Oscar Nelson (46th), Mayor Thompson's floor leader. "The chief of police (now commissioner) knows what cars serve him best." Debut of Chief Carver.

Whereupon Ald. Donald S. McKinlay (18th) expressed doubt that the chief would be as good for catching crooks as the other.

"A well Lincoln may be better for giving away at testimonial banquets, but not otherwise," he added.

"Why not give the police Ford?" demanded Ald. John Toman (23d). "Give them Ford," McKinlay shot back. "A few less limousines and we might hire some more policemen to put on the street."

Ald. Nelson, irritated that the discussion had gone so far, then tried to crush McKinlay with a charge that he was "trying to break into the press by injecting the extraneous testimonial banquet remark." With that the mayor put the question to a roll call and the Lincoln won, 37 to 6.

For the lower priced machine were Ald. Guernsey, R. A. Woodhull (7th), McKinlay, George Maypole (12th), W. W. Mills (27th), and Dorsey (29th). Ald. Joseph Smith changed his vote from no to aye.

The five Lincoln authorized yesterday, he stated authoritatively, are to be bought from the Triangle Automobile company, 2223 South Michigan avenue, whose city hall representative is R. H. [Doc] Maier, room 119, Hotel Sherman. Maier is a friend and active supporter of Mayor Thompson.

Most of the other Lincolns bought by the city's officials have come from the S. & L. Motor company, 3213 Washington avenue, in which former County Treasurer Jacob Lincheither and survivors of the late Patrick J. Carr are interested. Democratic members of the finance committee, it was learned, gave the orders to the S. & L. company over the protest of Maier.

Meanwhile the Cadillac Motor Car company, 2301 South Michigan avenue, previously a favorite, has been side-tracked.

Another disclosure was that many of the cars have been purchased days before the council authorized them on the assurance that the appropriation would go through. City Engineer Loren D. Gayton, it was said, has already negotiated with the S. & L. concern for a new Lincoln to replace his old Cadillac, without council authority. Thus far none of the automobile appropriations have been blocked.

HUSBAND'S PALS LIVE ON FUNDS OF KAISER'S SISTER

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—The former Kaiser's sister, Princess Victoria Schaumburg-Lippe, issued a denial tonight of a press story that she and her young commoner husband, Alexander Subkoff, have matrimonial or financial troubles. But it seems the reporter who wrote the story saw and held in his own hands in the office of an attorney for the Hohenzollern family a promissory note for $1,250 signed by M. Subkoff and the princess, and accepted by M. Ivanhoff, a friend of M. Subkoff, who has been appointed M. Subkoff's business manager. The note is payable at home.

The princess, besides her private fortune inherited from the Hohenzollerns, has a life income of $150,000 a year from the estate of her late husband, Prince Schaumburg-Lippe, and also a house at Bonn containing art treasures valued at $3,000,000.

M. Subkoff after his marriage, which under the German law gives him control of his wife's fortune, named M. Ivanhoff steward of the estate and surrounded himself with a host of White Russian friends from his former days of poverty. These are banking in the sun of his new riches. Since then the princess' fortune has melted like a snowball, and recently a number of such promissory notes have been issued.

Negotiations also have been opened for a loan of $100,000, ostensibly to finance a trans-Atlantic flight, but the financiers will not agree unless the princess hands over her personal jewelry, valued at $250,000, which up to now she has been unwilling to do, although her husband has been trying hard to induce her to do so.

The princess denies emphatically that she is contemplating divorce. Apparently she is perfectly satisfied with the way things are going, but her family does not take the same benignant view. They want a guardian appointed

LIST OF ALLEGED GAMBLERS GIVEN IN FEDERAL CASE

William Fox, former assistant to a bookmaker, took the witness stand in the federal court yesterday and gave a list of alleged gamblers who would take bets on horse races. Fox was a defense witness in the trial of Henry Hust and William Morgan, alleged bookmakers, who are accused of helping two young tallers to embezzle $250,000 from the South Side Trust and Savings bank.

In his list of alleged bookmakers, Fox gave the names of John B. McDonough, Twenty-second street and Cottage Grove avenue; Thomas Tuyle, Twenty-second and Halsted streets; Jad Hibbard, somewhere on Chicago avenue; Timothy Gleason, Atlantic hotel; James Harvey, Atlantic hotel, and M. J. Doyle, who the witness said is a brother of Congressman Thomas Doyle.

DRAGON TELLS OF BANK "PAYOFF" TO POLITICIANS

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Changing his mind over night, D. C. Stephenson, ex-governor of Indiana, began unfolding a tale of alleged corruption, graft and intrigue, said to exist in Indiana banking circles, before the Howland grand jury here today. For more than five hours Stephenson unfolded his story before the five men and one woman comprising the jury.

Several weeks ago Stephenson declared that when he testified his evidence would implicate at least twenty individuals, several of whom were said to stand high in federal circles. The life interest was to tell what he knows of certain activities of the Indiana state finance board and of unscrupulous politicians who are alleged to have "milked" state funds.

Stephenson entered the jury room at 2:10 this morning. When the jurors emerged for lunch at noon their faces were beaming. There was also a look of satisfaction on the countenance of Prosecuting Attorney Homer R. Miller who is conducting the investigation.

ARGENTINA PUTS OFFICIAL SEAL ON WAR ON U. S. EDICT

But Denies Repudiation of Monroe Doctrine.

BY HAROLD TATAM.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 29.—News of Jose Cantillo's protest before the league of nations' security commission at Geneva yesterday that the Monroe Doctrine is wrongly described in the league of nations' covenant as an "agreement" because it merely is a declaration of the United States policy, which never was explicitly approved by the other American nations, fell like a bombshell in Buenos Aires. This was because it was totally unexpected and not because it produced astonishment or disapproval.

Political circles emphasized that Cantillo's protest was a simple statement of incontrovertible fact, which must not be interpreted as a "repudiation" of the Monroe doctrine, but certainly as an outspoken assertion that Argentina "has no use for the doctrine."

Denies Hostility Toward U. S.
The average Argentine citizen undoubtedly supports Cantillo's attitude not because he is anti-American but because he feels his dignity affronted by the suggestion that his country is in need of protection from any one. The same feeling generally is believed to animate the other Latin American republics.

Foreign Minister Gallardo late this evening declared that Cantillo's words at Geneva were merely a recital of fact and expressed astonishment that they had been interpreted as a "repudiation" of the Monroe doctrine. He emphasized that there is no semblance of hostility to the United States in Cantillo's declaration, which was "absolutely frank and above board and could only be construed as an unfriendly gesture to the United States by persons anxious to do so and with ability to discover a hidden sinister meaning in the simplest phrases."

"Not Approved by Any Latin."
Replying to a question whether Argentina's nonapproval of the Monroe Doctrine was shared by all Latin American countries, Cantillo said he was not aware of any country having given explicit approval of it. "Neither can the incident be interpreted as a forerunner of Argentina's return to the league," he said. "This is a question for congress to decide, although I personally favor a return to the league."

Free-for-All Fight Marks

BELOGRADE, Yugo-Slavia, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The opening session of the newly elected parliament today was marked by a free-for-all fight between thirty or forty radicals and members of the peasant and democratic parties. Stefan Raditch, leader of the Croatian bloc of the peasants' party, figured prominently in the row. He was excluded from the next three sittings for speaking slightly of King Alexander.

Far better is it, the American are told, to take no chances but patronize the Key West bootleggers in the two hour wait between passing the customs and boarding the train.

The manufacture of alcohol for the American bootleg trade also has become a booming and extremely profitable industry. In Cuba alcohol is a by-product of the sugar mill. Five or six years ago industrial alcohol in Cuba was cheaper than gasoline and was being widely used for the operation of motor cars and internal combustion engines of various kinds. The American bootleg demand ran the price of industrial alcohol up so high that it has become cheaper to run automobiles with gasoline.

So notorious is the manufacture of industrial alcohol for the American moonshiners that several large sugar companies controlled by American capital have discontinued its production from the fear of their American owners that they would be suspected of collusion with the bootleggers.

Transforms Havana.
The tastes and demands of prohibition ridden Americans have transformed Havana. I came back after an absence of seven years and hardly knew the city. On every side there was evidence of prosperity. There were many numbers of new, modern buildings and more going up. Shops were doing a thriving business. The "English spoken" sign was displayed in every window. Every restaurant catering to tourists printed lish speaking Cuban police, known as tourist police and distinguished by white helmets, whose duty it was to assist Americans.

City Is Titled Up.
The city had been tidied up in those seven years. It was now as neat as a pin, far cleaner than New York or Chicago. The tourist hotels had become as clean as the most exacting American could demand. The service in the hotels had been vastly improved, in many cases under the supervision of experienced American hotel managers and subordinates all the way down to bell hop captains.

By virtue of all this Americanization it has now become possible for the Volstead madened denizens of the United States to escape for a period from tyranny at home and enjoy a legal cocktail, highball, bottle of wine, or glass of beer and revel in the exotic enjoyments of this bit of Paris in America.

While the hotels of Havana have been jammed to the roof all this winter, the Florida hotels have been reporting a slack season than in several years.

HUNT LITZINGER TO FACE TRIAL IN TRAIN HOLDUP

Jackson, Also Indicted,
Still a Fugitive.

Federal detectives were last night
redoubling their efforts to apprehend Virgil Litizinger, alias Bill Collins, one of five men named in a blanket indictment returned before Judge Evan A.
Evans of the United States Court of Appeals in connection with the $125,
000 robbery of a Grand Trunk mail train in Evergreen Park last Saturday.
Others under indictment are Charles [Lumpy] Cleaver, William Donovan,
Frank (Boss) Mecca and William Jackson. Bonds of $100,000 each were set by Judge Evans, in default of which Cleaver, Donovan and Mecca, who are in custody, were remanded to the county jail.
Along with Litizinger, detectives were likewise endeavoring to get trace of Jackson, for whom it was learned an undercover search has been pushed for several days. Jackson becomes the "mystery man" in the case, first knowledge of him coming with announcement of the indictments. First Assistant District Attorney John E.

Northrup declined to answer questions bearing upon his identity.

Mr. Northrup indicated further action in the case would probably be delayed pending capture of Litizinger and Jackson. At least one other indictment, against an alleged sixth member of the gang, may be returned before the inquiry is completed. Chief Postal Inspector K. P. Aldrich hinted, Denovan was taken to the office of Mr. Aldrich for further questioning in the afternoon. Officials expressed a hope that he would make a confession and thus aid them in their search for the two men still at large.

Deputy Police Commissioner William E. O'Connor, who with Capt. William Schoemaker and several bureau squads, captured Cleaver, Donovan, and Mecca, and recovered $17,000 of stolen money and bonds a few hours after the robbery, expressed surprise at criticism voiced by Mr. Aldrich of police handling of the case. Mr. Aldrich had declared himself "amazed" at the condition of the case when it reached federal hands.

REPORT ON DODGE ESTATE REVEALS GIFT TO WILSON

New York, Feb. 29.—[Special.]—

A gift of $2,500 to Woodrow Wilson a month before his death on Feb. 3, 1924, by his Princeton classmate, Cleveland H. Dodge, was disclosed today when Deputy Tax Commissioner Stephenson filed a report fixing the value of the Dodge estate at $15,525, 786 gross and $14,529,410 net.

Mr. Dodge, who died on June 24, 1926, after an operation, had been a personal supporter of the late President during Mr. Wilson's entire political career, and in the campaigns of 1912 and 1916 was the largest individual contributor.

Mr. Dodge's will gave the bulk of his estate to his family. His holdings of stocks and bonds, appraised at $15, 021,289, comprised the smallest number ever shown in any estate of that size. In part, to the fact that he had been retiring gradually from business interests and had given large blocks of stocks to members of his family.

The difference is in the flavor—
an inspiration to appetite, a revelation of savory goodness and relish—

Always a new Horizon for HUDSON

The consistency of Hudson leadership is but the performance of its first principle, resolution and tradition —to always lead in value.

Thus it was the first car at moderate price to give truly great performance, smoothness and reliability — the industry's standard today.

Thus it was the first in the development of American closed cars, and such smart turnouts as the Town Car and Speedster.

The Coach—a Hudson invention—turned the entire industry to closed cars.

The Super-Six principle and its companion invention that turns waste heat to power, is the most efficient combination in development and transmission of power, within our knowledge.

The engineering and manufacturing resources responsible for these great advancements are expressed again in Hudson's new leadership of mode.

In the beautifully designed and luxuriously finished bodies that feature the new Hudson Super-Sixes the same relation of values obtain as made the Super-Six chassis famous.

To see, examine and ride in the new Hudson Super-Six is to revise your whole knowledge of automobile values.

NO MORE RECLAMATION.

The United States government, vehemently opposed to far agricultural relief involving many millions of dollars, can help the farmer by not spending $300,000,000. Strange though that sounds, it is true.

The most earnest advocates of federal farm aid know that eventual and lasting relief will come to the farmer only when demand catches up with supply.

Why, then, should the government spend $300,000,000 to increase the supply and postpone the day when the farmer is able to get his feet on solid economic ground? Why should the government spend $150,000,000, to be followed by another $150,000,000, on the Columbia river reclamation project to create more acres of farm lands when 20,000,000 acres of land already farmed have been abandoned during the last seven years because of overproduction and low prices for agricultural products?

The record of the federal reclamation service should alone serve as sufficient warning against an enterprise contemplating the expenditure of more money than has been spent or all the reclamation projects to date put together. The record of reclamation in the United States is one of chronic failure and loss. The service exists today only because the time of final payments for reclamation land has been extended to from twenty to forty years, without interest; in other words, the capital already invested in reclamation is not entirely lost only through granting what amounts to a federal subsidy to holders of reclaimed farms.

Better by far if such federal aid is to be passed around that it go to established farmers on established farms. What is being attempted by these behind the Columbia river project is to make the farmers of the agricultural states finance new competitors on the Pacific coast. Was ever a project more unjustly absurd?

Any midwestern congressman who votes for the Columbia river project with its eventual expenditure of $300,000,000 will be openly acting against the most vital interests of his constituents.

DIARY OF A PROMINENT CHICAGOAN.

Jan. 25—Gosh, here it is the 25th and I ain't wrote in my New Year's diary yet. It's high time I begin. I saw some of Al Capone's mob at the show last night and say but those babies is sore. Said they'd been ordered to lam it, they weren't wanted around the community. Don't see why, they're swell guys, and besides I wouldn't want to be the bird that had to tell them to blow.

Jan. 26—What do you know about that? They plant a pair of pinocypals at Charlie Pitt's and Doc Ehl's place last night. I knew there was trouble coming. This political game ain't the gravy it's cracked up to be.

Jan. 31—They got a bunch of coppers watching Mayor Thompson's home. But let a poor stiff like me try to get a copper to protect him. And say, I got more reason to look for trouble than lots of folks, what with trying to get my fat cut from Tony and springing that punk they picked up on a tender rap. I wish I'd never gone into politics.

Feb. 1—Big Bill and a whole bunch leaves for New Orleans. Why don't they stick around? They leave us guys without no jack to stay and get lashed by a pinocypal some night.

Feb. 6—My God, another bunch of tickets to sell. If I've kicked in once since last April 5, I bet I kicked in thirty times to give a banquet and an automobile to some big guy that's got enough to eat at home and a car already. And now they want another C note and me to stand the racket of selling the tickets. O, well, I'll make Tony take them off my hands or turn him up.

Feb. 7—Looked in on a meeting of the traction committee. Some meeting. Toman says, "It is all a game of passing the buck. The companies would not let us have home rule in 1918." "We are willing to go along with any home rule you can get," says Pat Lacey, Insull's lawyer. "But some one did go down with a black flag." Now, is that the way to talk, I ask you? What will the people think?

Feb. 14—Traction committee again. Jim Brown brings out a new bill that they are already calling the "boy bill." It is supposed to provide a terminable permit but the only way it can be terminated is by the city buying the lines or saying somebody shall buy them. Terminable? Ha, ha.

Feb. 14—Well, I hear a new gambling joint has been opened up by some guy named Barotini at 3235 North Clark street. I'd like to know who gives him the office to go. That's right close to Frank Pope's place. More trouble, I suppose.

Feb. 18—What I want to know is when they are going to cut out this bombing. Barotini's place was blown up and the whole front knocked off Johnny Barotini's morgue on North Wells street. And that bomb at Barotini's place was all a mistake, I hear. Well, I bet that won't be the end of it.

Feb. 21—Another one. This time they drop a can of soap at Larry Cuno's front door. Not much damage, but the message is plain. I'm about done with politics. I told Tony he'd have to get some other guy to front for him. I give my interest in the pool parlor to Ben for five grand. Ma, I'm going down to Washington with Big Bill and that about food control. And after Washington, I'll head for Havana and just around with Sam Mitchell or maybe breeze up to Montreal and meet the alderman party there. That's safer than being in politics in this burg.

THE LAW BUSINESS NEEDS REORGANIZING.

The Illinois and Chicago Bar associations have joined in asking the State Supreme court to put banks out of the law business. The issue is raised in proceedings against the People's Stock Exchange bank of Chicago. The bar associations want the court to issue an order forbidding the bank to collect fees for services performed for clients of the bank by the bank's lawyers.

The petition is interesting as revealing the somewhat antiquated attitude of the bar, if not of all lawyers, toward their profession. This attitude is not shared outside the profession. The ordinary man feels, and rightly, that he is in better hands when dealing with an established bank than in going to some lawyer with whom he is acquainted or to whom he has been recommended. We believe the public interest would be served if law firms were incorporated like other business establishments, with excellent traditions, would be encouraged, and the man in need of legal services would be in a better way to get what he needs promptly and at a cost commensurate with the service.

It is a cause for wonder that lawyers who have played an important part in the organization of American business have refused to follow a tendency of the time, the advantages of which they have had continually before them. Doctors have also been lagging, but the sick man is in a better position to find a competent physician than the man in need of a lawyer to find equal competence. A good doctor can be obtained by inquiry at a good hospital; there is no such ready-cut method of finding able and responsible lawyers.

RUSSIAN DISARMAMENT.

The Russians have stated their disarmament proposals in a fifteen thousand word memorandum for consideration by the disarmament commission at Geneva. They propose to destroy all armament and practically all military organization, leaving only a small police force on land and sea, under international control, to maintain order and prevent piracy and the slave trade.

Russia's one hundred and fifty million, with their bare hands, could make a good deal of trouble for Poland's twenty-seven million if they were also barehanded. Universal barehandedness is the Soviet ideal. The motive is not precisely obscure.

In putting forward their scheme the Russians say they expect approval from the working classes all over the world, and that, we suppose, includes America. Here again is the assumption that the workers are less loyal to the country, less convinced of the importance of its army and navy in maintaining our independence, less convinced, even, of the value of that independence than any other element in the population.

The Russian proposal for complete disarmament will find some friends among the wide-eyed in this country, but we venture the guess that for every workman who falls for it there will be a dozen who wouldn't know a calling if they saw it. The profit line in the record of labor in all our wars, and notably in the last one, is not obscure.

A FUTILE ENDEAVOR.

George Washington's ancestry has been traced back to the twelfth century in England. Under the direction of an eminent American scholar an English genealogist has followed the Washington family back to the year 1100, with the genealogical signs pointing out as the family's founder one William de Herburn, who lived in the county of Durham in the village of Washington in 1130.

Interesting to the research worker in history, but how futile it is meant to increase the stature of Washington and his significance to posterity. To Americans, Washington is the greatest man who ever lived, and he will continue to be, in the light of, or despite, whatever investigation of his family tree discloses. He needed no family to make him great during his lifetime; he needs none now to enhance his greatness.

Washington, Lincoln, Napoleon—such men need no ancestors, could ignore them. Washington, the aristocrat; Lincoln, born in a Kentucky cabin; Napoleon, son of Corsican peasants. They are remembered for what they were, not for the family into which they were born. Heredity may have played its part; undoubtedly it did; but the achievement of the individual so surpassed any genetic promise of greatness, so controverted expectancy in fact, that heredity had in these lives little or no meaning.

To the American, recalling the greatness of Washington, it makes no difference who his parents, his grandparents, and his great-grandparents were, whether he was descended from noble or peasant, rich man or poor, mist or slaver. Washington was and is Washington, shedding no borrowed brilliance, but his own, on the pages of history.

DRY LAW VOTED FAILURE.

[Buffalo Express.]
The board of directors of the Church Temperance society of the Protestant Episcopal church has announced what is regarded as practically the final report on the society's poll of opinion among Episcopal clergymen regarding prohibition under the Volstead act.

According to returns from all parts of the country, Episcopal clergymen voted 1,904 to 563 that prohibition has proved a failure in their communities. For modification of the Volstead act 1,339 votes were cast as compared with 673 votes against modification. On the question of repeal of the eighteenth amendment 853 voted for and 984 against.

Incomplete returns of this poll were made public several months ago. The indication then was that the Episcopal clergy considered prohibition under the Volstead act a failure. Dry leaders naturally lost no time in trying to discredit the poll. They charged, among other things, that Dr. Empringham, head of the temperance society, was in the pay of wet organizations.

Dr. Empringham doubtless will again be the subject of dry attacks, and doubtless he will again defend himself successfully. Personally, we do not see how he came into the case except as a reporter of the result of the poll. The important thing is that more than 3,000 Episcopal clergymen voted their opinion on Volsteadism, 1,339 favoring modification as against 673 opposed to modification.

LIGHT ALSO CURES RICKETS IN NEGROES.

NEGRO babies can be cured of rickets by exposure to ultraviolet light with the same rapidity and certainty as can white babies. This observation was made by Dr. Levinson. He did not have many babies under observation, but, on the other hand, he watched the improvement of the bones by frequent X-ray examinations. The completeness of his study in some measure made up for the small number of cases he saw.

Further, some of the babies he saw were coal black. Therefore, it can not be argued that his conclusion may apply to the in-betweeners but does not apply to pure blood Negroes. There are several reasons why this information is of general importance.

One is that rickets is very prevalent among Negroes, particularly in the northern states. It is three times as prevalent as it is among the whites. Almost any one can observe the disproportion by noting the preponderance of bowlegged people among Negroes. Doctors know that Negroes are disposed to be chicken-breasted. This chest shape is the foundation for consumption and possibly for pneumonia.

Another reason for interest in this observation is the bearing it has on the general question. What information we have on the effect of light has come so fast that when we try to follow it we tangle up. One theory is that tanning the skin prevents the absorption of ultraviolet. According to this theory, after the skin has once become pigmented, rickets no longer affects the body. If this theory were correct, Negroes would be shut off from the beneficial effect of light, just as they are protected from its harmful effects.

The present theory is that the part of the light ray most under discussion stimulates the activity of a chemical substance called ergosterol. This stimulated substance is either carried to distant parts of the body or it is secreted, which in turn is carried to distant organs and helps them in some way.

The pigment of the skin, whether it be the skin of a Negro or that of a

TAKES MORE THAN THIS.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—[To The Legal Friend of the People.]—I have been married one year and six months, but I have grounds for a divorce which would do him no good to file counter suit because he couldn't win. We have decided that a divorce would be the best and only thing, but would be when both agreed that we could just get it annulled. I will soon have been in Chicago three months. Would you please explain to me what I will have to do.

Mrs. B. S.

The fact that both parties agree does not remove the necessity for proving statutory grounds in a divorce case.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—[To The Legal Friend of the People.]—After the filing of all liability of claims after he has filed petition in bankruptcy even though he has not been discharged from bankruptcy?

2. Can a claimant force collection of his claim if filed in bankruptcy proceedings during the period between date of filing and date of discharge?

3. Is there any time limit for which the referee must close the case? G. W. V.

1. Proceeding on a claim against a bankrupt is pending, but if he fails to apply for discharge within a year or where there is no delay, within a year and one-half, then the bankruptcy is no longer effective. 2. Not if the bankrupt takes proper legal steps in discharge. 3. See 1. The responsibility rests on the bankrupt rather than on the referee. TRUSTEES LAW DEPARTMENT.

CANNOT COMPEL STOCK PURCHASE.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—[To The Legal Friend of the People.]—I am a stockholder in a "closed" corporation (Illinois) which wishes to sell its common stock and the corporation desires to make an issue of new stock, has the stockholder any prior rights in selling? If buyers have been obtained can he demand that his stock be put on sale before the new stock? C. S. E.

In general, a stockholder is not entitled to insist upon the purchase of his stock; and the corporation by sufficient means can issue new stock without his consent. It seems possible that your situation may have arisen before the new stock was put up before you.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 1, 1863.
IN SIGHT OF VICKSBURG, VIA CAIRO.—Details of the capture of the ram General Grant by the rebels have arrived. The Confederate steamer No. 5 in the Red river on Feb. 14, the Queen of the West reached a point near Gordon's landing eight miles from the mouth of the river. The pilot, while rounding a point, ran the vessel hard aground. In this position the rebel batteries opened fire on us with heavy caliber guns. One shot perforated the steam chest, and we were compelled to abandon her. Nineteen officers and men, besides thirty Negroes, were captured. Col. Eliot escaped to the De Soto on a barge. I am happy to say that the correspondent of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE escaped bodily injury. He was badly frightened and lost his hat, papers, and a suit of clothing.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Gen. Hooker issued an order dismissing "with disgrace from the service of the United States" the 2nd Maryland Cavalry, a Pennsylvania cavalry. The order states that the soldiers were guilty of gross neglect of duty and disobedience of orders while on outpost duty in allowing his sentinels to "disobey, neglect, and converse with pickets of the enemy."

CHICAGO.—William W. Lock and Miss Adelaide V. Bigelow were married on Feb. 28 by the Rev. F. M. Eddy. S. W. Ashley of McKim's theater and Miss Annie E. Weeks were married on March 1 by the Rev. J. H. Tuttle. Another wedding reported was that of Henry Jones and Miss Augusta Probst, who were married on Feb. 17 by the Rev. W. H. Cooper.

HAWAII.—Members of the board of inquiry into the Maine horror are of the opinion that the vessel was blown up by a mine. It is not likely that anything that can develop in subsequent inquiry will change the opinions of the board. It may be the board will deny this premature statement of its present position, but to do so it must suppress the testimony, or publish some other opinion and see to it that the evidence now before it is concealed forever in the secret government archives.

tanned white person, less fairly deep below the surface. The cells which lie between the pigmented area and the surface contain granules. Therefore, ultraviolet light cures rickets in Negroes and in tanned persons.

This theory explains why Negro children in tropical countries have less rickets. It also explains the good effects of sunlight and other light in pigmented persons sick with certain disorders.

CURING WARTS.

Mrs. R. H. says that oil of cinnamon applied locally will cure a wart. She had one on the bridge of her nose. She got some oil of cinnamon and applied it several times a day, using a toothpick or match for the purpose.

My husband is very healthy, robust and a hard worker, but he suffers from rheumatism pains in his arms. He wants to know if wearing rubber shoes causes this. He is compelled to wear them in his work. He is 5 feet 8 inches high and weighs 130 pounds.

He has a decayed tooth, but we are so far from a dentist that it seems impossible to get it fixed right now.

REPLY: 1. Wearing rubber shoes does not cause rheumatism or neuritis. It is a factor in either direction it is a limited protection against the cold. 2. It is possible that the condition of his teeth is responsible for his trouble.

WANTS BROAD SHOULDERS.

REPLY: Mrs. F. V. writes: What is the best exercise for making broad shoulders? I would like to develop wide shoulders.

REPLY.

In the language of Jack Dempsey, broad shoulders are born, not made. You can develop them by carrying a particular very extra carrying weight, such as putting, tug of war, grammarian work on bare, ropes and jaddies. Blacksmithing, hot carrying, shoveling and picking are good jobs for this purpose.

In a way this was rather encouraging to us. Our impression of the first three months of the Seventy-first congress was that the debates have been entirely confined to Senator Hefflin's personal opinions on everything.

RESTORING THE HOME.
Chicago, Feb. 27.—There are a great many who view with alarm the decay of the American home and sigh heavily for the impending fate of the city, but none ever suggests a remedy. The most potent factor in the downfall of the home is the rise of the modern city, which has robbed the home of its most important economic reason for existence; that is, as a center of industry. The remedy to correct this condition is quite simple: place a heavy tax on all factory-made goods that compete with home industry; on bakeries, all sorts of vegetables, fruit, meat, and ready-to-eat foods; on laundries, dry cleaning, and all other such services. This would save the price of these commodities to the great mass of people could not them, but would have to make them themselves in their own homes. What a crazy scheme, say those who see only a few inches beyond their noses, or who measure all values in dollars; but it is no crazier than the active tariff, now employed by all nations to encourage their own industries. This plan would be the same in principle, but instead of building up factories it would build up homes. A large part of industry now carried on in factories would be transferred to the home, with it would go millions of women employed in factories, and thus the economic and prestige of the home would be restored, with least concern to family and dollars under these circumstances, I fail to understand what my vote would do.

HE DECLINES TO VOTE.
Chicago, Feb. 25.—Justice Floyd E. Thompson, in THE TRIBUNE of Feb. 25, accuses the nonvoting citizen. The use of our country is that too many of our citizens are concerned with their duties and immunities rather than with their duties and responsibilities, he says. Of course, it is a simple thing for a politician to say while the voter is schooled or trained in the great issues involved. The voter is mainly concerned about dollars and luxuries, not about the great issues which even the politicians fail to understand in their lifetime study or dodging of them. One whose chosen work gives plenty time for study, with least concern to family and dollars under these circumstances, I fail to understand what my vote would do.

STOP, THREE!
Chicago, Feb. 27.—My car was towed for parking too long and when I tried for it at the station house the morning the sergeant claimed he did not have it. No record had been made of the affair. ## REPORT MAYOR DETERMINED TO BUILD SUBWAY

Plans to Lease Tube to Elevated, It's Said.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Mayor Thompson is said to have decided that he and Michael Fabery, president of the board of local improvements, will build a subway. Before actual construction starts, which the mayor has been led to believe can be this year, the plan is said to be to lease the subway to the Chicago Rapid Transit company. Samuel Insull told the Dever administration that he was willing to lease a subway, if built.

Although the mayor has declared emphatically to certain friends that his "set" on the above course of action, he has made no announcement for two reasons. One is that so many mayors have "favored" the subway and so many promises on that subject have been made that it is not to be expected the people will take another promise seriously until the digging begins. The other reason is that some of his political advisers claim he would gain more popularity and political influence to defer consideration of the subject until after the November election.

Procedure Not Decided.
The result is that, while the mayor is certain about his objective, he is yet undecided on his procedure. If not delayed too long, the mayor desires to build the subway in part by special assessments against property specially benefited, according to THE TRIBUNE'S information.

A few days ago a meeting of the council local transportation committee was called for tomorrow to decide what to do next. That meeting was called off yesterday and another scheduled for March 9 to discuss subway construction by special assessments. While there is no information that the mayor suggested this change, observers say that it dovetails into his plan exactly. James W. Breen, first assistant corporation counsel, has told the committee that the city now has ample power to build by special assessment. It is understood that Corporation Counsel Ettelson will give this view in writing, if requested.

Lorimer Reported Active.
Then, according to some of the mayor's advisers, the subject will be switched out of the hands of the aldermen and placed in charge of Fabery. It is said that William Lorimer, close adviser of the mayor on waterways and politics, has been canvassing contractors to "prevail upon them to submit bids, if a subway is ordered"—quoting an informant. That phase of the matter is said to be well along.

Some reports indicate there may be some opposition in the administration ranks to going ahead on an Ettelson plan. This plan would be the same in principle, but instead of building up factories it would build up homes. A large part of industry now carried on in factories would be transferred to the home, with it would go millions of women employed in factories, and thus the economic and prestige of the home would be restored, with least concern to family and dollars under these circumstances, I fail to understand what my vote would do.

JUDGE APPROPRIATED CONFISCATED RUM, IS CHARGE IN OKLAHOMA

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer of the northern Oklahoma district was accused today in a brief filed with the speaker of the house of having appropriated for his personal use liquors confiscated by federal officers, of intimidation of jurors, of denial of lawful rights of defendants, and of upwards of a score of other misdemeanors.

Kennamer is accused of conspiracy to defraud the government, of bargaining with law violators for leniency of sentences, of attacking the liberty of the press, and of imprisonment of a citizen without justification.

The brief cited what it alleged were specific instances of judicial terrorism and of alleged improper activities in enforcing the prohibition law and converting to his own use intoxicants confiscated by federal officers.

Special Session on Subways?
In this contingency it is expected that the special session would be asked for subways alone, so far as transportation is concerned. And on that issue it is said the mayor expects not only no opposition from the newspapers, but support. The mayor is understood to believe that if some action can be taken which will at least look like a real start on subways, it will benefit his factional Republican ticket at the primary on April 10.

DRINKING FOR BUSINESS' SAKE NEWEST MENACE

Dwight, Ill., Feb. 25.—[Special.]—"Business drinking" is the latest discovery growing out of present day alcoholic conditions. Dr. James H. Oughton, head of the Keeley institute, declared tonight in making public a new survey for 1927.

"It's the business man," said Dr. Oughton, "who is doing the heavy drinking today. This is just opposite to what it was ten years back. And this carries a decided menace. Because of it there is an increase in alcoholic consumption of fully 25 per cent over 1926 and 300 per cent over 1920, the first full year of prohibition."

"For the sake of business, six years ago, and of course prior to that, men drank only occasionally. Now they drink for the sake of business, as the survey clearly proves."

"Salesmen, merchants, bankers—these are the ones affected. I have their statements to that effect. In the completed files there are few from farmers and mechanics. Formerly fully fifty per cent were classed as farmers and laborers."

"Another surprising fact. The 'long period' drinker is a thing of the past. In other days there were occasional drinkers, one before meals; family or social drinking; most saloon drinking was not prolonged. Now it is done in big doses at big sittings."

"This means quick physical collapse. The survey gives 500 out of 600 as going to pieces in six months. The reports do not show that this is due to a difference in liquor, though it may be. They merely indicate the condition."

"Business drinking brings to the front an entirely new problem."

CITY WILL SUE DR. BUNDESEN FOR BABY LIST

Immediate court action against former Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundesen to recover his copies of the so-called baby list will be started by the city, Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen announced last night.

Mr. Breen started work on the case after passage of a resolution by the city council yesterday authorizing the suit. The list comprises 125,000 addresses of parents of young babies to whom Dr. Bundesen sent health literature. He took copies of the list on his removal as commissioner last December.

Ald. Ross A. Woodhull [7th] fought the resolution, terming it a "move to stultify a worthy cause by a technicality." Ald. O. F. Nelson [48th] sponsored it on legal grounds. The vote was 27 to 11. Half a dozen aldermen left the council chamber just prior to the roll call.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, croscote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial catarrh, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

NEW $5 RACKET REVEALED; STORE OWNERS PROTEST

"Police Guide" Salesmen Arouse Merchants.

Chicago's neighborhood storekeepers, often the prey of bombers and various kinds of racketeers, are being subjected to a new racket, it was learned yesterday.

Now they are being asked to pay $5 for a little aluminum case worth about 15 cents. The case is called the National Police Guide. It is tacked on the outside of the store's door and contains a card on which typewritten the names, home addresses, and telephone numbers of the persons to be notified in case of fire or other emergency.

The top opens so that the policeman on the beat may take a look at the card. If necessary, and the theory is said to be that the information it bears will be highly valuable if an emergency should arise.

Also Available to Robbers. It is pointed out that a holdup man or some other criminal could also get the information just as easily as the policeman, and that appears to be the objection of merchants.

High pressure salesmen armed with letters from certain police captains, recommending "all possible courtesies to the bearer," already have cleaned up the west side to the tune of 20,000 police guides and the operators of the scheme are looking forward to more than $200,000 more purchases in the city, they told a Tribune reporter.

The campaign is managed by J. R. Davis of 4108 Sheridan road. He is working in conjunction with Joseph R. Blais, a retired police sergeant. Mr. Davis said the scheme should easily clean up $500,000 in Chicago.

Carry Letters from Captains. It was learned that salesmen in the Austin district carried letters signed by Capt. William H. Killeman. In other districts salesmen had letters from Capt. Willard Malone and Patrick Harding.

Storekeepers who complained to Tribune reporters about the new racket pointed out that in a recent newspaper advertisement, stating "positively no competition; more than 60 per cent of merchants will buy on first interview."

So a reporter went around to see Mr. Davis about a job. He got the job and a lot of encouragement. "Blais" said Davis, after he had explained the proposition, "has a lot of political influence, and that helps. He is a Thompson man. We've got the sanction and sometimes the help of the police. You can't miss."

But This One Falls to Buy. But M. J. Axelrod, tailor at 421 North Kedzie avenue, refused to buy when a demonstration was given for the benefit of the new racket. S. J. Liddov, dry goods store owner of 220 West Madison street, it was learned, had torn the card out of his little aluminum case because his home address was available to any one who opened the lid. Still Mr. Davis insisted it is a valuable service.

"It would take years to install under city management," he said. "We, on the other hand, expect to cover the city rapidly."

Catholic Bishop of Japan Here, Praising Chicago. Praising Chicago as a "wonderful city, humming with activity," and "surely one of the greatest cities of a great, progressive country," the first and only Roman Catholic bishop in Japan, arrived yesterday for a brief visit. He is the Rt. Rev. Januarius Hayasaka, bishop of Nagasaki. The Japanese bishop spent most of his first day in Chicago, touring the city with his host, the Rev. James J. Horgan, director of the diocesan society of the Propagation of the Faith, and the Rev. E. F. Hoban, bishop elect of Rockford. Tonight, Japanese residents of Evanston will honor him with a dinner and a reception.

Honest Man Who Returned $52,000 Wins $1,500, a Job. New York, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Andrew Lubowsky, Brooklyn painter, who while looking for work found $52,000 in a Brooklyn street, received $1,500 as a reward today and has been given a job with the United States trucking corporation, from one of whose vehicles the money had been lost while being transferred to a bank. The reward was in two parts—$1,000 from the truck company and $500 from the bank.

Freightliner on Fire. RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Feb. 29.—(AP)—With a fire in its hold spreading, the Brazilian freighter Atalaia today was standing off the coast of Brazil awaiting help.

350 Consecutive Appearances. Young actress discovers how to be on the job every day.

SHE USED to lose one night at least every month from her work. Valuable time that lost money for the show.

But for over a year now she's been on the job every single day, for 350 consecutive appearances in the record-breaking run of a Broadway hit. What made the difference? Such a simple hygiene habit that it's surprising more women haven't found it out.

She takes a spoonful of Nujol regularly for a few days before-hand, each month. Nujol regulates the intestinal functions of the body at times when they're apt to be upset. Helps to keep normal, even under abnormal conditions. Cleanses the whole system.

Why don't you try Nujol, as this woman did? Take it for the next three months. You'll be amazed at the difference it makes.

Nujol can't possibly hurt you. For it contains absolutely no drugs or medicine.

It was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Be sure you get the genuine.

Senate Flood Control Bill Requires Local Contributions

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 29.—(Special.)—Local contributions for flood control, as insisted upon by President Coolidge, are required in a bill approved by the senate commerce committee and introduced by Senator Jones (Rep., Wash.), chairman of the committee, today in the senate.

The bill, which authorizes the expenditure of three hundred and twenty-five million dollars, is regarded as going a long way toward meeting the views of the administration, although it does not do so in all particulars. It declares for the principle of local contribution and provides that local communities shall pay one-third of the cost of bringing levees on the lower Mississippi up to the 1914 standard, but that thereafter they shall be relieved of further contributions to the cost of construction of levees or other flood control works.

Furnish Rights of Way. The local communities shall furnish rights of way for levees without cost to the federal government. In the case of floodways and spillways, the federal government shall furnish rights of way as well as bear the entire cost of construction. The local communities also are required to maintain flood control works after completion, except in the case of regulating spillway structures.

The bill conforms to the Coolidge recommendation in that it approves the Jadwin plan for levees, floodways and spillways on the lower Mississippi as the basis of the flood control program. It also follows the administration recommendation that construction work be placed in charge of the present Mississippi river commission, under the direction of the secretary of war and the chief of engineers.

In order to permit modifications of the Jadwin plan and acceptance, if desired, of proposals of the Mississippi river commission which are different in detail, the bill creates a commission composed of the chief engineers, the president of the Mississippi river commission, and a civil engineer who would be called in for consultation to be appointed by the President of the United States. This commission would have full power to make changes in the Jadwin plan.

The chief point of difference from the Coolidge plan is the failure to provide for an economic commission.

Higher Than Jadwin Figure. The sum of $325,000,000 authorized to be expended by the federal government under the Jones bill is about $65,000,000 more than contemplated under the financing scheme of the Jadwin recommendations, but is $148,000,000 less than the total provided under the Reid bill.

The Jones bill declares it to be "the sense of congress that the principle of local contribution toward the cost of flood control work, which has been incorporated in all previous national legislation on the subject, is sound, as recognizing the special interest of the local population in its own protection and as a means of preventing inordinate requests for unjustified items of work having no material national interest."

It is provided that the local contributions to levee construction as specified, the furnishing of rights of way for levees, and maintenance of control works shall be regarded as "a full compliance with this principle, in view of the great expenditure estimated at approximately $292,000,000, heretofore made by the local interests."

3 DRYS ARE GIVEN JAIL TERMS FOR GRAFT ATTEMPT

New York, Feb. 29.—(Special.)—

Edward P. Dunne, a suspended prohibition agent, and John T. Cole, alleged graft collector for Dunne, and Maj. Ernest P. Schroeder were sentenced today by Federal Judge McCowitt in Brooklyn.

The first two were given six, and three months respectively in the penitentiary for an extortion conspiracy. Schroeder, former head of the alcohol permit division in Manhattan, was sentenced yesterday to two years in Atlanta and a fine of $10,000.

The three men were convicted of demanding $200 from Alfred D'Andrea, roadhouse proprietor at Amityville, L. I., from whom they were said to have purchased liquor.

VERDICT ON WOMAN'S DEATH. A coroner's jury investigating the death on Feb. 15 of Mrs. Josephine Walsera, 39, of 743 Bath avenue, yesterday returned a verdict that she died of acute alcoholism. Her husband testified that both had been drinking heavily the night previous.

She only needed one buyer for her fur coat—a Tribune Want Ad brought 20!

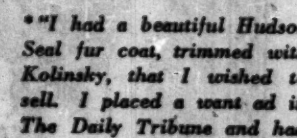

A good fur coat, even though it has been worn a few seasons, has a real cash value. Hundreds of Chicago women would be glad to secure its warmth and style at a bargain price.

When Mrs. Lester Solomon of 940 Winona Avenue decided to sell her Hudson Seal coat she determined to offer it where she would be most certain of securing a buyer quickly. She chose The Tribune Want Ad Section. And her choice was wise! Her Tribune Want Ad brought 20 prospective buyers! Of course, it was easy for her to sell the coat at her own price!

If you have recently bought a new coat—or plan to buy next fall—here is a chance to get some extra money. A Tribune Want Ad will sell your old coat with the same speed and ease as Mrs. Solomon experienced. Call—

MYSTERY WOMAN AND MORAN HELD IN BOMB INQUIRY

Police Also Grill Three Others Arrested.

Renewed police activity in connection with the recent bombings of the homes of four well-known Chicago politicians developed yesterday with the seizure of George (Bugs) Moran, one time pal of Dean O'Donoghue and long identified with the north side alcohol racket.

With Moran three others were seized: James Clark, 2896 North Francisco avenue, said to be a Ypsanti union agent; George Deane, 1836 North Long avenue, and Adam Sklodowski, 1111 North Mozart street, owner of a drug store at 3900 South 52d avenue, Chicago.

Scarcely had the four been taken to the detective bureau at the order of Deputy Police Commissioner William E. O'Connor when Attorney Israel H. Goldberg hurried before Chief Justice William V. Brothers of the Criminal court and requested habeas corpus writs.

Woman Also Questioned.
Leaving his questioning of the prisoners and of the wife of one of them, who was also taken into custody, O'Connor placed charges of robbery, vagrancy, and disorderly conduct against the four men. He withheld the name of the woman.

The robbery charges, O'Connor explained, were based on evidence he has that Moran and the other participated in the $50,000 time lock robbery at the Stevenson National bank last Feb. 11, though it was hinted at the detective bureau that the principal purpose of the charges at the moment was to check action on the writs.

Last night detectives concentrated their attention on questioning the woman. They held high hopes, it was estimated, of gaining information of value bearing on the bombs which were thrown at the home of City Controller Charles C. Fitzmorris, Dr. William H. Reid, former smoke inspector; Municipal Judge John A. Sbarbaro and Lawrence A. Cusack, secretary and brother-in-law of State's Attorney Crowe.

Four to Face Judge Today.
Today the four men prisoners, will be arraigned before Municipal Judge John H. Lyle in Grand Crossing court. O'Connor made no secret of his conviction that Judge Lyle, in line with his usual custom, will hold the four under bonds sufficiently high to keep them in jail while the inquiry is under way.

Attorney Goldberg said he intended appealing to Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court for a change of venue from the Lyle court to the judge of the district in which the arrests were made.

COBBLES DIES OF GAS.
When a bottle of water he had placed on the gas stove boiled over in his shoe repair shop at 758 Milwaukee avenue, Captain Madara, 27, was asphyxiated.

NEW CONTROL OF ARMY RESERVES SOUGHT IN BILLS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 29.—(Special.)—Identical bills providing for the creation of a reserve division of the war department to replace the five agencies now handling reserve affairs were introduced in the senate and house today by Representative James [Rep., Mich.] acting chairman of the house military affairs committee, and Senator Reed [Rep., Pa.], chairman of the senate military committee.

The legislation was introduced to stimulate the development of the various components of the army reserve forces and to secure for the country a more effective emergency military force. The division will be primarily responsible for general supervision, under the chief of staff, of the administration and development of the organized reserves, the reserve officers' training corps, and the citizens' military training camps.

LEGISLATORS HEAR LINDBERGH'S PLEA FOR AVIATION LAWS

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh made a fervent plea for legislation for the promotion of aviation at a joint session of the legislature this afternoon in the assembly chamber, which was packed to the doors with a cheering, enthusiastic throng.

America is now beginning to fly, he told the lawmakers, and legislation for the protection, promotion and regulation of aviation has become a necessity.

His address was preceded by the signing by Gov. Smith in Col. Lindbergh's presence of the first aviation bill of importance to be passed in New York state. The measure provided authority for cities to own, operate and regulate airports outside their limits.

The flying colonel made the trip from New York in a slightly damaged plane. In taking off at Curtiss field the shock absorber cord of the tail axle broke so that the tail axle could no longer be used. Lindbergh did not stop, but merely glanced back, noting what had happened and lifted his plane into the air.

In the legislative chamber no one was interested in the bill the colonel talked on. "Their whole interest centered in the personality of America's greatest air hero. He was accompanied on his legislative appearance by another trans-oceanic flyer, Lieut. Lester J. Matland, who made the non-stop journey to Honolulu and who also spoke briefly in behalf of state enterprise to promote aviation.

Churchgoing has fallen off considerably in the larger cities, but in the small towns and country villages the church thrives as it did under the czar's regime.

No member of the communist party is permitted to be a member of any church, nor may he attend services, except in the case of marriages or deaths, when he is permitted to accompany his friends or relatives.

Occasionally priests are put on trial for warning peasant girls that if they marry communists their hair will drop off. Expectant mothers sometimes are told their offspring will be dwarfs or hunchbacks if they even speak to bolsheviks.

It is estimated that there were about 120 churches in Moscow before the revolution—it was called "the city of church bells." No order was observed in the location of these edifices, and frequently there are four, five, sometimes half a dozen churches within a stone's throw of each other at an important street intersection. Nor was any heed paid to setting off the church buildings, and invariably one sees the cupolas of a church rising from behind a dingy little two story building, with just a passageway leading to the street. The church may be entirely hidden in by surrounding buildings.

CANADIANS FIGHT PLEA OF MOTHERS FOR LIFE OF GIRL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LACHINE, Que., Feb. 28.—Stung to bitter resentment by the American clerical campaign by which it is hoped to save Doris McDonald going to the scaffold, the people of Lachine to greater activity in their campaign for stern justice.

"The government will never dare to remove the death sentence," friends of McDonald asserted, "and if Doris McDonald does not end her life at the end of a rope in Valleyfield we'll build a scaffold of our own and get her when she comes out."

While his mother was putting four other children to bed Tuesday night, 13 months old Bruce Satterfield of 2488 Heining street, River Grove, swallowed part of the contents of a tin of talcum powder. He died yesterday in the Reynolds hospital.

He reported that he had no authority to permit Doris to see her young American husband, now stolidly awaiting his fate in the death tier of Bordeaux prison, across the city from his wife's place of confinement.

"I will notify the Ottawa authorities of her request and it will be up to them," Lorrain declared.

An unofficial announcement from the soviet domain, but it has been announced by officials that in 1933 compulsory education will become operative in Russia proper, though not in all Siberia and the Caucasus and Turkestan, and some other more backward regions.

The delay in making children go to school is due to two reasons: there are not enough schools, and there are not sufficient teachers. In the next five years the government expects to build additional schools everywhere to take care of the pupils and to have enough trained teachers to instruct them.

You are in trouble if you get into a sleigh and drive the latest chick (driver) a written slip of paper giving the address to which you want to go. He gives you many words of conversation explaining he doesn't know how to read and never heard of that street, anyway. You try to read the name of the street phonetically and he roars back louder and louder, seemingly convinced that if he yells enough you'll understand him.

Even at the Alexander railway station, where the trains roll in from Paris, Berlin, Warsaw, and other cities of the west, the sleigh drivers can hardly understand if you say "Savoy hotel," because "hotel" in Russian is "gostinitsa."

Pilot Killed, but Japan Pushes Pacific Flight Plan
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, Feb. 28.—Japan's projected trans-Pacific flight took a tragic turn when a practice plane crashed on the mountainside in Sagami province. Pilot Goto was burned to death, while his mechanic, Suwa, was seriously injured. Lieut. Gen. Yamada, chairman of the flight committee, said the committee would go ahead with the project, despite the accident.

Nothing about a railroad is more fascinating to the average person or more important to railway operation than the power plants on wheels which pull the trains. The massive size, tireless power and seemingly intelligent responsiveness of locomotives have a vivid appeal to the popular imagination. An adequate supply of efficient locomotives kept in first-class condition is a fundamental requirement for satisfactory railway service.

The Illinois Central System, in keeping with its pledge of efficient service, maintains an adequate supply of all types of locomotives essential to meet its patrons' demands. As the traffic of this railroad has grown through the increased population and the agricultural, industrial and commercial development of its territory, its locomotives have kept pace accordingly in both number and power. In 1856, the year its charter lines were completed, the Illinois Central had eighty-three locomotives. Now it owns more than 2,200, and about one-fourth of them are less than seven years old. These 2,200 locomotives are equivalent in power to more than 10,000 locomotives such as the ones used in 1856.

Keeping the locomotive supply of a large railway system adequate and up to date entails heavy outlays of capital. Since the beginning of 1920 the Illinois Central System has spent nearly $40,000,000 for the purchase and modernization of locomotives. Its expenditures for keeping its locomotives in good condition amount to around $16,000,000 a year.

Investments in road and equipment are permanent pledges of a railroad's desire to serve the public. Such investments can be productive only as they promote the prosperity and earn the favor of the users of railway service. The extensive investments which the Illinois Central System is constantly making to increase and improve its facilities are evidence of its faith in the continued advancement of its territory and in the continued good will of its patrons.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

SHADES of face powder of the same name differ—and it is this difference that makes one face powder more becoming than another—that causes one to bring out and enhance beauty to the full, while another of the same name fails utterly to accomplish its purpose.

Mr. George White, who has demonstrated this fact to some of the most beautiful girls in America who have appeared in his revues, writes:

"I find that the various shades of Houbigant face powder, if properly selected, such as Rachel for the brunette, Naturelle for the blonde, endow women with a degree of beauty not attainable in a powder of any other make."

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and logy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

Either consult a good reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: make a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. (Adv.)

Reveal Their Flattering Details
In Refreshing Variation

FASHIONING very chic styles in endless array, suited to every type of woman.

The new eyebrow hat, a bit daring in the way the brim is manipulated.

The larger brimmed hat that is very correct with the new feminine frocks as background.

And the more conservative styles that are very smart and very adaptable in narrow, becoming brims and correctly proportioned crowns.

The Newest
Materials Make
These Hats

$10

Fifth Floor, North, State.

Silks— Prints or Plain!

Either Is Smart—
Both Are Here
At Their Best

THERE is printed crepe de Chine or Georgette crepe of especially fine quality in those small blended designs which indicate Spring. $2.95 yard.

Black Georgette crepe and chiffon crepe, or white, or a great variety of colors, in notably fine weaves at $2.25 yard.

Washable crepe de Chine—it's much in demand now for the separate blouse of the ensemble. $2.25 yard.

New Poiret Patterns To Be Had Here Exclusively in Chicago

Each pattern holds the fame of the great couturier who designed it. That the pattern is so easily handled and so successful in outcome adds to its value. To be had only when material is purchased, and then at $1 each.

Second Floor, North, State.

Slip-on Gloves of Softest Leathers Paris-Approved for This Spring

THE slip-on glove clothes the hand that guides the helm of smartness in street apparel. And this group provides an opportunity to purchase it in either capeskin or imported glace at special saving.

Pique sewn in the swagger manner that should mark the gloves which accompany the tailleur or topcoat. In several shades of tan and gray. All are reduced to $2.65 pair.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

Silk Pongee Fashions These Practical Undergarments and Adds a Bit of Daintiness by Handwork

THESE garments of pongee are styled with tailored practicality, for the occasions when sheer lingerie is not feasible; many are made entirely by hand and show embroidery or appliques in soft pastel shades. Bloomers (not sketched), $1.75.

Nightdress $2.95; Pajama $3.95; Princess Slip $2.75

Third Floor, North, State.

'Kerchief Frock New in the Sports Mode $27.50

THE scarf fashion has never been so important as now, in lovely pastel colors or the brilliant tones it is cast about the shoulder of this two-piece frock, which has a smart V neckline. Contrasting fabrics in the manner of Patou have combined a jersey blouse with a pleated silk skirt of blue, green, beige or gold-color.

Fourth Floor, South, State.

A Gracious Formality in Moderately Priced Frocks $27.50

FROCKS of lace or lace and Georgette reveal the new fashion details with a softness and flattering effect and have been created for formal afternoon or dinner wear. One is of black lace and chiffon over peach satin crepe. Note the sketch.

Fourth Floor, Wabash.

Tub Frocks Prophecy the Chic of Color $16.95

ONE frock of silk crepe in yellow, chin chin blue, peach, rich beige and white suggests a suit with tucked jacket and pleated skirt. $16.95.

Fourth Floor, East.

As the Shoe Tree Sways the Footwear Mode Beige Reptile Is Noted

THE slender, graceful lines of youth are perfectly handled in these smart shoes of beige lizard or alligator combined with kid.

Created, as are all Shoe Tree shoes, for those women fastidious about their footwear who appreciate the opportunity to purchase the new and correct at the prices which this section offers.

Sketched are three styles—a tie of lizard and kidskin, a pump of alligator and kidskin, and a T-strap of lizard and kidskin.

At $10 Pair

There are many other styles for spring, priced accordingly, $8 and $9 pair.

Third Floor, East.

CONOWINGO ON THE LINE

TODAY—three months ahead of schedule—two of the great generating units of the Conowingo plant are in commercial operation.

This hydro-electric plant, built for The Philadelphia Electric Company on the Susquehanna River at Conowingo, Maryland, is one of the most important power projects of recent years.

Its seven generating units, the largest ever built, will supply 378,000 h. p. to the great metropolitan district of The Philadelphia Electric Company System.

The complete plant will be in operation six months ahead of schedule.

JUGGERNAUT

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.
Roger Brown, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to the Riviera, is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job in order to spend a little time in Cannes.

While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius, Roger treats herself to a visit to the fashionable Boulevard des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sit at the next table. On returning to her hotel, Roger finds a note from the doctor asking her to report in the morning.

The beautiful French woman of the restaurant comes to see Dr. Sartorius and Roger knows that she is Lady Clifford. A few days later her husband, Sir Charles Clifford, an Englishman, is stricken with typhoid fever and Dr. Sartorius gives up his practice and devotes himself exclusively to Sir Charles, who has a beautiful villa in Cannes. Roger Clifford, Sir Charles' only son, by a previous marriage, arrives in Cannes. He is attracted to Roger.

Sir Charles tells Roger that he has changed his will to the extent of making him executor and trustee of his whole estate.

INSTALLMENT XXIX.
AN OPEN WINDOW.

Ever and again as Roger went about her evening duties she saw before her the picture of that girl with the scarlet tip. It floated before her vision, reminding her of thoughts. She wished she had never seen it, that she had been spared the knowledge that was hers. After all, she was not concerned with Lady Clifford's love affairs, she would rather not know about them.

Now, however, she could not get the matter out of her mind.

Roger, too, she thought, was brooding over something. Was it the same thing? There was something troubling him, evidently, for after dinner he seemed restlessly about, unable to sit quiet for more than two minutes at a time.

"I'm afraid you're finding it very dull, dear," Miss Clifford said to him as for the fourth time he wandered out of the drawing room and back again. "Isn't there some one you could ring up?"

He shook his head and, gravely pensive, fitted a record into the gramophone. In another second the air was penetrated by Galli-Curci's birdlike trills. Roger laid down her patience cards and listened with delight. Once or twice she noticed that Roger's somber gaze rested on her with interest, and she was feminine enough to wonder if he thought she looked nice in the little white dress she had put on. It was such a relief to get out of her stiff uniform that she always managed to change for dinner when there was sufficient time.

Roger was admiring her, as a matter of fact. He was thinking, as she had been on a low stool, one foot curled under her, that she looked absurdly

There was a faint murmured protest, then the doctor's voice again. Roger, hardly more than a little girl. He believed she could on occasions be frivolous, too, gay without being silly, as he put it. So few girls could achieve that. . . . Tentatively he changed the record, setting on a fox trot from the new dance success. He liked the sparkle in her eyes, and the way her slender foot tapped the floor.

"Do you like dancing?" he demanded abruptly.

"Do I not?"

"That'll tell you what we'll do. Tomorrow evening we'll run down to the Casino for dinner and dance a bit. Would you care to?"

"It would be heavenly! But do I dare?"

She glanced at Miss Clifford.

"Why on earth not, my dear? When you're off duty surely your time is your own. I should certainly go, it will do you good. You needn't stay very late if you're afraid of oversleeping in the morning."

"Well, then, I will," Roger promised simply, her eyes shining with pleasure.

"Good girl! We'll have a regular beau. We both need it."

His depression had lightened, and by the time the exhilarating tune came to an end he was himself again.

In the seclusion of her room that night Roger took out of the wardrobe her best new evening gown, bought in Paris, and examined it with satisfaction. She had worn it only once; it had been a present from Miss Ferris, who had allowed her to choose from a tempting collection at a very good dressmaker's in the Faubourg St. Honoré. Layers of filmy chiffon, peach colored, it presented a delectable picture as she spread it out on the bed. It was extremely smart as well as becoming, and what more can woman want?

"It is adorable," she sighed gleefully as she fingered the delicate mass.

"What luck to have it, here where there are so many smart dresses! How glad I am I decided on this color!"

She spent half an hour manœvering her nails, and then, still feeling wide awake, decided on a bath. The bathroom was situated between her room and the doctor's. On entering it she found it as usual so stiflingly hot that she was obliged to throw open the casement window and let the cool, moist air steal into the room. For several minutes she leaned out, breathing in the night odors of the dark garden. With them came another odor that was familiar, the acid, pungent smell of the doctor's tobacco. By it she could tell that he, too, had his window open; he was probably sitting close to it and reading and smoking.

Somewhere near at hand a door opened and closed again. Before she could decide what door it was she heard the low rumble of the doctor's voice addressing some one.

"Well," she heard him say somewhat brusquely, "What is it now?"

It was the tone one might employ to a rather tiresome child, exasperated, even rude. She found herself listening idly, wondering who it was who had come into his room. A second later, with a slight shock, she recognized the unmistakable tones of Lady Clifford. Again, as on a former occasion, she was determined to know how the doctor spoke to her in so peremptory and ill-mannered a fashion. She could not catch the words of the Frenchwoman, but the doctor's reply was clearly audible.

"That was wrong of you," he was saying. "I distinctly told you not to say, if I did not succeed for you. Besides, I am sure you exaggerate the importance of it."

Lady Clifford's next speech, uttered in a querulous tone, was distinguishable from which Roger concluded she had come closer to the window.

"But I tell you I must know the truth! I cannot rest until I find out."

"You will know soon enough."

"But when I know it will be too late!"

"Rubbish. How did this idea come to you?"

"I will tell you—the woman's voice was eager, importunate—in January, when we were in Paris, he went to see Hamilton, his English solicitor. I thought nothing of it at the time, but a few days ago something he said made me think—made me afraid—he had altered his will, in some way that concerned me. I don't know what he may have done. He is capable of anything! I tell you I am terrified!"

Roger, by the bathroom window, nodded to herself with satisfaction at the confirmation of her theory. So it had been the will Lady Clifford was trying to see matters were clearing up. She heard Sartorius say skeptically: "Don't be a fool! Even if he has made some change, is there any reason for thinking it affects you? Go back to your room, this is neither the time nor the place for these confessions. I have told you that before."

There was a faint murmured protest, then again the doctor's voice, heavy and intolerant:

"Good God, woman, what possible difference can he make, or any one else, for that matter? You appear to overlook the fact that all is being done for your husband that can be done. There is not the slightest cause for alarm."

Another murmur, longer than before, then in a slightly modified tone, Roger still dictatorial:

"I see no reason why you shouldn't sleep, but if you insist I will give you something. . . . Here, one powder, not more, or I'll not be answerable for the consequences. . . . And, remember, don't come here again. If you insist, send your maid for me. Good night, then, silence. Roger shut the window, cautiously, for she did not like her neighbor to suspect he had been overheard, and turned on her bath.

Recently why she minded his knowing was not clear to her. There had been nothing wrong in the conversation in the next room. It was the doctor's manner towards his employer that was strange far more than the fact that he had said. She found herself puzzling about it after she was in bed.

A lively, interesting show—"A Girl in Every Port"—and don't miss the movie-tone program.

"A Girl in Every Port" is a good little yarn that suits Mr. McLaglen better than other things he has had since "What Price Glory." He's a tough, lovable bawd in this as he was in that, and you like him much. Robert Armstrong as Bill is another appealing twelve minute egg.

Various dances range through the action, but to Louise Brooks falls, as should, the plum feminine characterization. She pulls it off in her customary deft fashion—and the endearing bob in which she first appeared before the movie camera.

Troth Announced

MISS LILLIAN T. CHERNEY.
(Drake Photo.)
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Cherney of 4516 North Francisco avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian Theresa, to Cornot Edmond Valette.Work Starts May 1
on Club for Girls

At a luncheon yesterday at the Auditorium hotel of the Illinois club Miss Julia Deal, president, outlined the aims of the club in building its million dollar home for working girls. The club, which is to be operated exactly as a commercial hotel, will have a library, gymnasium, swimming pool, and educational facilities for the girls, and in addition, will offer unemployment insurance, an employment office, rooms where music students may practice, medical attention and private dining rooms and salons where the girls may receive their friends.

Ground will be broken for the building about May 1 on the club property at the northwest corner of Rush and Ontario streets.

"The aim of the club is to give the working girl the chance to live well, to be cared for as she would be at home, to be perfectly independent and to give her an opportunity to make desirable social contacts, all at a minimum cost," Miss Deal said.

KIND: Farce comedy.
FUNNY: Yummy!
ACTING: Excellent.
SUBTITLES: Ridiculous and amusing.
DIRECTION: Just right.
PHOTOGRAPHY: Pleasing.
STORY: Quite original. A damsel, brought up in an atmosphere of fanatical hygiene and long words, goes to a sanitarium that proves to be a run-down place. The only cases there besides herself are those of Volsteadian significance.

Situations develop fast and funny, and the optimism at the Oriental are rocking with laughter.

REMARKS: Bebe Daniels has been a good comedy and she has it in "Feel My Pulse." She carries her part off in great style and was fortunate in the supporting cast allotted her, the high lights of same being Richard Arlen, hero; William Powell, villain; and Helene Conklin, comedienne.

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Mrs. Mabel Schyberg, 5028 North Francisco avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.
What type of radio program interests you most?

The Answer.
Mrs. Anne F. Appel, 831 Wilson avenue, housewife—That varies with circumstances. In general, I prefer classical music. I am very fond of violin music. Then again, I like to dance, and that means the desire for dance music on the air at times, though it is not my choice for listening purposes.

F. K. DeArmond, 712 Diversy boulevard, manager—I should say that I like the modern music. We have had our set three or four years or more and we still like jazz music the best of all. Singing is interesting, I will most anything for a change but in due time I am back to the jazz orchestra.

Mrs. G. K. Wenig, 2122 Washington boulevard, agent—I like the children's hour best of all, because it interests the children and keeps them indoors. For myself, I like best the historical presentations, those with musical background. They are interesting and educational.

Richard D. O'Brien, 1821 Estes avenue, sales—The well known orchestras, principally—I mean the hotel orchestra dinner music programs. Their tones are much better than the ordinary unknown orchestras. Jazz music is losing in popularity, and semi-classical orchestra music is gaining favor.

Miss Dorothy Schnable, 1806 South Kosler avenue, stenographer—Personally I prefer jazz music. Next, I like to hear good operatic solos with piano or orchestra accompaniment. I can sing and I'd like to get on the radio myself. I think if any one gives me half a chance I will make good.

Miss Dorothy Schnable, 1806 South Kosler avenue, stenographer—Personally I prefer jazz music. Next, I like to hear good operatic solos with piano or orchestra accompaniment. I can sing and I'd like to get on the radio myself. I think if any one gives me half a chance I will make good.

Miss Dorothy Schnable, 1806 South Kosler avenue, stenographer—Personally I prefer jazz music. Next, I like to hear good operatic solos with piano or orchestra accompaniment. I can sing and I'd like to get on the radio myself. I think if any one gives me half a chance I will make good.

Unity, Magazine of Forlorn Hope, Marks
Its 50th Anniversary

A memorial dinner was given last night at the Blackstone to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Unity, an unprofessional magazine of religion, and to pay tribute to Jenkin Lloyd Jones, its founder.

On the speakers' program were Mrs. Helen Rosenfeld, Frederick Starr, George B. Levy, Jane Addams, Louis L. Mann, Harriet Monroe, Curtis W. Reese, Zora Gale, and S. O. Levinson. Each praised the work being done by Unity under its present editor, John Haynes Holmes, in continuance of the policy begun by Dr. Jones fifty years ago.

"Unity has always sponsored what seemed hopeless, lost causes," Dr. Holmes said. "It has always been an amateur venture and as such has had an irresponsibility a professional magazine could not have. Some of its liberal policies which fifteen years or more ago seemed irrational dreams are now common talk and many have been fulfilled."

"Outlawry of war, both the idea and phrase first appeared in the pages of Unity. It seemed a high hope then, but now it is close enough to reality to be discussed in every country of the world."

"The decay of teeth is probably responsible for more early deaths than any other human affliction," Dr. Arthur D. Black, dean of the dental school at Northwestern university, told the Chicago Dental society meeting last night in the Drake. He said research ultimately will establish this theory as fact, and stressed the growing recognition of dental surgery as a corrective measure to most ill.

Dr. Black also pointed out that $109,000 was donated to the medical profession for research in 1926, and voiced his plea that more funds be given for dental research. Dr. Frank G. Conklin presided at the meeting at which were submitted reports of the recent convention here.

Terms Death a Mystery to Be Solved by Study

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Old age and death, itself, are but diseases, Dr. Boris Sokoloff, European cancer and rejuvenation specialist, said today when he arrived on the liner President Harding for six months' research in the Rockefeller institute.

Old age, he said, should be treated like any other ailment, and death should be thought of as something not inevitable, but to be studied with the idea of solving its traditional mystery.

THEATER

MISS ETHEL WATERS and her company with the 11th, come into the Adelphi in a Negro show named "Africans," and there is indication that she will be followed in that theater by Fox Walls, a piece by Dana Burnett, the novelist, and George Abbott, the play-thinker, that has had a run in New York.

Harry Lauder is now indicated as due Holy Week in Chicago; but the theater isn't named.

The Messrs. Shubert have donated the use of the Four Cohans for the annual benefit in Chicago for the Actors' Fund of America; the date is Friday, the 23d, in the afternoon.

Ben Jonson's "Volpone" is in rehearsal by the Theater Guild of New York, with Alfred Lunt, Miss Margalo Travers, Ernest Cassan, Philip Leigh, Dudley Digges, and Morris Carnovsky in the cast; all are known in Chicago. The old play is to replace "The Doctor's Dilemma."

And Glenn Anders, Tom Powers, and Elliot Cabot are added to what the Guild calls its "acting company," meaning nothing more, so far as I am able to make out, than that they are to be members of the Guild's roster for next season. Mr. Cabot is now in the principal masculine part of "Coquette," vis-à-vis with Miss Helen Hayes.

Mr. Coban, of the belief that his new piece named "Whispering Friends" was of more importance as news and as a matter of play-reporting than Miss Ina Claire's review of "Our Betters," said so far publication upon learning that the drama-critics of New York had held Maughan's 1916 play to be more convincing of the policy than that the first night for each was the same night. So, Heywood Brown, who is back on the New York World, called Mr. Coban a rotten liars. And, Mr. Coban comes back at Mr. Brown rather heartily in an open letter. . . .

From where I sit, Mr. Coban is right in his contention that a new play by him is of more news-importance than the revival of an old one by Mr. Maughan; the former's theatre is so far from being contemptible that I, a warm admirer of Mr. M—'s, think that it ranks at least as high as Mr. Coban's as in drama.

New Casino to Be Reproduction of Old with Improvements

BY THALIA

The matter of what the new Casino is to be like need no longer be one of conjecture. The edifice, according to present general and quite definite plans, is to be almost an exact reproduction of the present building, except that it is to have many new conveniences. True, the new quarters will be two and a half times as large as the old, but the additional space is to be below ground, and only those who enjoy the membership of the exclusive organization will ever know the difference. The basement is to house a large and nicely equipped kitchen in place of the old one which was as inconvenient as it could be. Another dining room will take the place that the kitchen now has.

Mrs. John Alden Carpenter and Arthur Heun, who planned the Casino's interior, are to do the new place, and unless they evolve an unexpected set of ideas, the decorations will be practically the same as those of the old. The building will occupy almost the entire extent of the 109 by 118 foot corner recently purchased. High hopes are entertained that the club will be all settled by Sept. 1. I've heard that the present Casino is to be vacated by July 1.

The Charles King Corcoran, their daughter, Miss Josephine Fish, and the latter's fiancé, Count Anthony de Bosc, arrived yesterday at the Lake Shore Drive hotel, to be here until the last week in March when Miss Fish's marriage to Count de Bosc will take place. The wedding is to be a strictly family affair, and pre-nuptial events are to be celebrated as far as possible as Miss Fish is still suffering from the shock following an accident in a recent horse show in Santa Barbara.

The wedding will most probably be the 25th or 26th, after which the bride and bridegroom will depart for abroad. They are to reside in London. Dr. and Mrs. Corcoran will then return to their winter place at Santa Barbara. Chicagoans who remember Max Karolik, the young Russian tenor who was much popular when he lived in Chicago several years ago, will be interested in the news of his marriage to Miss Martha Codman of Boston, Newport, and Washington, D. C. Miss Codman, who is also musical, is more than 30 years older than Mr. Karolik, whose musical ventures she has been encouraging since the beginning of their acquaintance.

Among Mr. Karolik's friends here during the period when he made two efforts to achieve grand opera were Mrs. Samuel Insull, Mrs. Mitchell Hoyt, Miss Lucy Martin, Mrs. Livingston Fairbank, Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, and Mrs. Jacob Baur.

Mrs. Hathaway Watson, chairman of the Ruth Hanna McCormick Volunteers, gave a luncheon party at her apartment at 199 Lake Shore drive yesterday for the speakers' committee of the volunteers. Miss Helen Bennett spoke.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: A Prop Boy with a Past

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 29.—[Special.]—The secretary of labor and Mrs. James J. Davis tonight gave a buffet supper and moving picture show. A party of sixty enjoyed their hospitality in their new Massachusetts avenue home.

Mrs. Henry Riggs Rathbone, wife of the representative from Kentucky, was the guest of honor last night of the Poetry circle of Washington when she sang a group of songs for which she wrote both words and music.

Mrs. Lockwood Honors of Chicago arrived here today to spend a few days at the Mayflower.

Gen. Herbert Owen Williams, recently assigned for duty in Washington, and Mrs. Williams had thirty guests at dinner tonight at the Chevy Chase club, in compliment to the chief of staff and Mrs. Summerall.

Chairman: Mrs. Gilbert Scribner, Miss Harriot Houghtaling, Mrs. Samuel A. Greeley, and Mrs. Robert Brown.

Quite a little flurry is being created in the social calm by the arrival tomorrow of Mrs. Aldis J. Browne's sister, Mrs. Walter Boyden of New Bedford, Mass., to supervise the sale at the Palmer house next week of sports clothes and novelties that will net the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society 20 per cent of its proceeds.

Mr. and Mrs. James Patton of Evanston are going down to Phoenix, Ariz., to be with Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Patton for the weekend. Mrs. Patton is better after a long illness, and Mr. Patton hopes to take her to Santa Barbara, Cal., to convalesce in the near future. The Pattons' daughter, Mrs. Leslie Wheeler, will remain near by at Chandler, Ariz., as long as her mother is at Phoenix, and will then return to Lake Forest.

Miss Corinne Kirkland has leased her apartment at 25 East Walton place and is at the Ambassador hotel temporarily. She will occupy her Lake Forest house during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lawrence Mills of Highland Park announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Margaret, to Richard Warren Lamb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey T. Lamb of Hinsdale. Miss Mills is now at the Garland school in Boston. Mr. Lamb was graduated from Phillips-Eraser academy and attended Dartmouth college. The wedding will take place in June.

Suggestion May Work Good or Ill; It's Up to Parents

By Gladys Huntington

"He's such a light sleeper for a child. Everything wakes him up. The milkman coming by in the morning—or the fire engine—or the telephone in the hall. He loses so much rest. We're thinking of moving to the country," said his mother with a worried air, while the youngster stood by, absorbed in hearing about his mother's falling even grownups have.

"I'm so weary this morning," said Nancy's mother, as we all sat down to a leisurely Sunday breakfast. "Nancy did one of her night stunts—woke up at 3 and called me, and didn't get to sleep again until 5. She was so restless and nervous. I had to tell her stories to get her to sleep. She shows it, too." And everybody commiserated and looked at Nancy.

"Maybe it was that cake I had, mother, or perhaps it was because I got so excited over the present daddy brought me," contributed Nancy with great interest.

"Betty is so funny about her food—she won't eat this and she won't eat that. It's a great problem to feed her," complains Betty's mother in her hearing.

"James gets so absorbed in building planes, that sometimes he won't eat—he doesn't want to stop. He has such great enthusiasm," says James' father with great pride, in James' hearing.

The power of suggestion is great. I read a story once of a woman who became imbued with a malignant feeling toward another woman. She began her revenge by telling her enemy how dreadfully ill she looked. Then she kept reiterating this to all the woman's acquaintances and friends. They kept talking about her looks and pressing up her the feeling that she was really in a bad state.

Eventually she died from the devastating effects of suggestion. Well, that may be in the nature of fantasy—but it is credible. How do you feel if first one person and then another tells you how tired you look? Don't you end by feeling tired?

Children are very open to suggestion. Talking about their ills may make them worry or think about themselves in a way which detracts from their mental health, and so their physical tone. It may even make them begin to feel symptoms discussed before them. Discussion of their faults may result in an intensifying of them.

But we must remember that by the same token, suggestion may work the other way.

Return Trip to Paris Made by Mr. Holmes

Burton Holmes projects and discourses of the frivolities of Paris at orchestra hall this week, though it is not all so frivolous as that. The early morning meat and vegetable markets of the city look like a lot of tremendously hard work, and the "flea market" is a singularly unattractive reminder of the submerged tenth.

To compensate for these a good many of the famous buildings and monuments of Paris are displayed as they look at sunset, sunrise, and in moonlight, and there is much of how Paris amuses itself. There are cafes on Montmartre and an open air dance floor at Robinson's, something of the Folies Bergere, the Moulin Rouge, and Josephine Baker, and quite a bit of the Quartier Art's hall. And there is a movie of a dejeuner at the Canneton which even in this unsubstantial and highly unsatisfactory form causes many mouths to water reminiscently.

Gladys Billiken celebrated her birthday by giving a song recital at Kimball hall last night. Being the twentieth of February, she has not had many of them. Her program was a list of songs in various languages, including the Swabian dialect of Germany, with an aria seldom heard as "Mimi Pinson, la Blondinette," from the "La Boheme" that was composed by Leoncavallo. These she sang in a pleasant though not matured soprano voice, keeping well on pitch, and with many nods and gestures of expression. Her audience greatly approved her performance.

Chicago Gets Ready for Tuberculosis War

Machinery for Chicago's part in the national campaign for the early diagnosis of tuberculosis, which opens this month, was set in motion last night when representatives of medical, industrial, social, charitable and other organizations discussed publicity plans at a dinner in the Men's City club.

To teach the laymen the danger signals of tuberculosis, and preventive measures against the disease through early diagnosis, is the keynote of the "let your doctor decide" publicity which will be distributed throughout the city in the form of lectures, films in Chicago schools, and bulletins from the health department.

The Day of the Leek.

This is David the Welshman's day, and the flag on oak or leek is what the patriotic Welshman uses as a symbol of his country. He has resented the attempt to have it supplanted by the daffodil. The reason given for the leek symbol is that on March 1, A. D. 640, Welshmen fought Saxon and won, whereupon one picked a leek from the fields and stuck it in his hat.

An old author, in describing the Welshman's fondness for the vegetable, said, "I have seen the greater part of a garden there stored with leeks, and part of the remainder with onions and garlic."

But the Welsh have no monopoly of this vegetable. Cock-a-leekie soup is served when the birthday of Robert Burns is truly celebrated. The French call it the "poor man's asparagus," and Americans living in Paris become devoted to it, but there they do not have to pay five cents a flag for it, as we so often do. Yet people do like it, in a salad or in a vegetable pie, or with fish and baked potato, etc.

Each nation of Europe has a name for this vegetable which is another proof of its wide use, and it is said that it is one of the luxuries the Israelites liked for after they left Europe, while Egyptians to this day eat it chopped fine as a favored accompaniment of meat. Other people eat it raw, even when they consider it so desirable a thing in soups. It may be cut fine and mixed with any set of green salad ingredients before the French dressing is put over, or before the salad is dressed.

The smaller varieties of the leek, plain cooked and buttered, are really among the sweetest and smoothest, and most appetizing of the spring vegetables. Like all the vegetables that have been used from time immemorial in the kitchen of various sorts are justly attributed to it. By the way, the Scotch soup made of the cock of the walk and leeks is often spelled thus: Cocky Leeky.

It is said that King James I. was so fond of it that he preferred it to all London dainties. Presumably he, like the Israelites, "liked for it."

A "Spell" of Crying Often Clears the Air, and the Complexion

We heard a physician say, not long ago, that women were better off in the days when they were given to emotional spasms of weeping. They were better off physically for the nerve bath provided thereby. They let go of themselves and got rid of a lot of pent up emotion which our women, the speaker said, wear in their faces.

A good cry, in other words, for that school girl complexion! One is a trifle dubious always about the advantages of living in a previous age when you couldn't do this or that—yet it is believable that a "spell" of letting go wouldn't do a certain type of woman any harm.

Dr. Louis R. Blich says that young women know how to laugh and sing and romp about with the neighbors' children, but older women too soon lose their emotional pliability. Deans and have a good time, he says. Don't bother about what people think. Cry if you can't do anything better, but let yourself go.

It is best to bring out your pent up emotion with a good hearty laugh, but if you can't, loosen up with a good cry. Loosen up with something.

The last thing a woman would blame her sallow complexion on would be living on high tension day after day. Yet high string women have noticeably poor complexions. They need to learn how to let themselves go—how to flop into a chair and rest, not sit with muscles taut and nerves strung like a tight rope walker's wire.

The reports of neurologists constantly stress the increasing number of women "nervous" victims, which the physician spoken of above probably had in mind when he longed for the good old days "when women might weep with freedom."

It wouldn't be wise to advocate a return to tears movement. Weepers aren't wanted around business places where women abound, these days. So some other way must be devised to meet the emotional needs. Men probably get a lot out of their system by going on a cussing or a drinking rampage. But these privileges still being denied women, they have to rely on their will power to let the nerves and muscles go dead on them every so often.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

G. R.: FOR EXCESSIVE GREASINESS of the skin apply diluted alcohol several times a day. Dip a piece of absorbent cotton into the alcohol and wipe the face with it.

FARM AND GARDEN

Many in Chicago are taking up gardening as a form of outdoor sport. Hundreds have turned to the great game of hopping cloches and get their exercise with a hoe instead of chasing golf balls over the turf. These men are taking their new sport seriously enough to organize to promote the order of hoeing men.

Thirty of them met recently and launched a garden club movement for men only. At monthly luncheon lunches they expect to exchange ideas on landscaping, carry on educational work, and promote flower shows.

L. W. Naeck, 4211 Kimbark avenue, winner of the grand prize of $1,000 in The Tribune 1927 flower garden contest, was selected as temporary president of the new organization, which has not yet been named. James Burdett of the national garden bureau, 130 North Wells street, was chosen treasurer. The club will meet again at the Hotel Sherman March 15, when a permanent organization will be formed.

Mr. Naeck explained that the necessity for the garden club movement had grown out of the fact that there was a growing interest among men in flower gardening and they had found in most cases it was impractical for them to take part in the activities of the women's garden clubs in the Chicago territory, where there are more than forty active organizations. A monthly luncheon held in the loop will make it possible for both professional and amateur growers to keep pace with developments in private and public gardening.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child saying printed. The story told never has been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsolicited contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunt Sue, The Tribune, Chicago.

Little Dorothy, aged 8, was helping her mother with the housework, and while dusting the telephone, she lifted the receiver to be sure of dusting it all, but to her astonishment, heard a voice saying, "Number, please," so she answered, "It's only me, Dorothy operator, I'm dusting the telephone," and hung up to continue her work.

Little Nancy carried on a correspondence with her grandfather. On special occasions he would include a check in his letter to her. These she accepted without any enthusiasm.

One day she tore open a letter and found a dollar bill. "O, good," she cried, "grandpa has sent me a real one dollar that I can spend the way I like."

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a large no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no dizziness, a feeling of buoyancy, no indigestion, no constipation, no headache, no nervousness, no depression, no other effects.

They start the bile and remove constipation. Take nightly and note the clearing complexion. Millions of happy people, 100,000,000, are all Druggists.

Stiff Silks Achieve a Piquant Charm

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Nowadays we are not hoping. We are simply looking the hoop. We want our gowns to be more feminine and for this reason numerous stiff silks have been resolutely revived. However, we are not yet prepared for the crinolines that made our grandmothers so indisputably feminine. The best we can do is to attach some great big bow of one drapery at the side to indicate our attention.

There are many new gowns of stiff taffeta that speak of the impulse toward more feminine attire. Faton and Boulanger and Douillet are among those who have sponsored numerous models of this type. Nearly all of them show a surplus line of drapery on a fashion parade and nearly all experiment with a wide looped drapery at the side. It goes without saying that the loop goes hand in hand with that meritorious skirt irregularity.

Today's model of light green taffeta was designed by Douillet and its surplus line is accomplished in association with a fashion parade dipping down in a point on one side of that skirt. To balance this, the skirt drapery is lifted perceptibly higher on the other. The looped drapery is not caught with an ornament. In fact, any touch of trimming would spoil a line which is so eloquent of these new feminine modes in the stiff silken fabrics.

Glen Ellyn Girls to Parade in Legion Fashion Show

Ten Glen Ellyn girls will appear as models in a fashion parade tonight and tomorrow night in the American Legion Fashion Show in the Glen Ellyn auditorium. The girls were chosen at a contest in the Congregational church of Glen Ellyn last Monday. They will be outfitted entirely in attire provided by Glen Ellyn shops.

Mr. Naeck explained that the necessity for the garden club movement had grown out of the fact that there was a growing interest among men in flower gardening and they had found in most cases it was impractical for them to take part in the activities of the women's garden clubs in the Chicago territory, where there are more than forty active organizations. ## PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

It is this time of year to use plaits in unexpected ways to add flare to the hemline. In this dress they are attached part way to insure a snugness through the hips, which reveals a hip yoke. The slightly bloused bodice with inset waist—which is daintily embroidered—the revers, collar, hip yoke and cuffs are made of the dull side of crepe for contrasting contrast, and embroidered crepe, flat silk crepe, Canton faille crepe, and georgette crepe are appropriate materials.

The pattern, 3246, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 34, 36, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 40 inch material. The embroidery pattern—72—comes in blue and yellow, and costs 15 cents extra.

Beggar's Opera Co. to Give Junior League Benefit

The Beggar's Opera company, now in its final week at the Eighth Street theater, will give a special performance at the Evanston Country club next Wednesday, the proceeds of which will aid the Junior League's charitable activities. On the Saturday following the company will play in Winnetka for the New Trier Orchestral association.

To Make a Child Happy.

"I have a child's desk and a doll buggy I am anxious to dispose of. Would any of your little readers like to have them?"

Mrs. R.

The most difficult problems in arithmetic you'll find surprisingly simple when worked out at this delightful desk. And your favorite doll will simply love this buggy. I know. Please write me immediately if you'd like to have them; do not telephone.

"It has occurred to me that perhaps you know of some boys or some institution where magazines on aviation would be welcome and I shall be glad to hold them for you."

F. C.

Now that aviation has become the all absorbing topic of conversation among small boys, there should be a large demand for the magazines this reader has to give. Let me know, boys, if you're interested.
